Department.

Sir,

I have the honour to invite the attention of Government to my letter R.C.No. 254 C/23, dated 27th March 1923 and to their order No. 669 Law (Education) dated 11th May 1923 passed thereon and to state that presumably no specific mention was made in the G.O. of "clerks including typist clerks and copyists in the Oriental Manuscripts Library" since they are ministerial servants under Fundamental rule 9(17). If, however, the omission of "Copyists in the Oriental Manuscripts Library" from the G.O. referred to above was deliberate in the sense that Government did not wish then to class them as ministerial, I request that Government may be pleased to reconsider the case and treat these posts as ministerial in view of the clerical nature of the work attached to these posts. Similarly the work of the two Pandits in the Oriental Manuscripts Library is entirely clerical and quite unlike that of the Pandits employed in schools and colleges. The scales of pay sanctioned for these posts are almost analogous to those sanctioned for clerks in B and C class offices. As the Government gain ultimately by treating these posts as ministerial and allowing the incumbents thereof to continue in service till sixty if their work is satisfactory, I request that Government may be pleased to class the posts of Pandits in the Oriental Manuscripts Library as ministerial.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

C. No. 1826 C - From the Director of Public Instruction, R.O.C. No. 2 C/25, dated the 8th June 1926. Pandits, Oriental Manuscripts Library - Inclusion in the list of ministerial servants.

Under Rule 9 (17) of the Fundamental Rules 'ministerial servants' means a Government servant in subordinate service whose duties are entirely clerical and any other class of servants specially defined as such by general or special order of a local Govt. As the duties of clerks, copyists, etc., in the Oriental Manuscripts Library are entirely ^{clerical} there is no need to declare them ^{to be} ministerial. The Director's presumption in the first sentence of the letter in current file is correct.

2. As the duties of the Pandits in the Library are said to be entirely clerical the Director's proposal that they ~~posts~~ may be ~~also~~ declared ~~as~~ ministerial may be accepted.

A draft order is submitted. It may be sent to Finance for acceptance.
