Sir,

The period for which the services of Dr. John Matthai were lent by the Government to the University for appointment as University Professor of Economics will expire in December next. The Syndicate at its meeting held on the 7th instant considered the question of the further continuance of the appointment and resolved that he be re-appointed Part-time Professor of Indian Economics for a further period of five years on the same terms and conditions sanctioned by the Government in G.O. No.1161, Law (Education), dated the 28th September 1922.

I have accordingly the honour, by direction, to request that the Government will be pleased to sanction the extension of the services of Dr. John Matthai as Part-time University Professor of Indian Economics for a further period of five years.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

Economics & a fair popular subject. There are several persons who have specialised in this ^{range} subject available in our country - These have had training & higher study in European Universities - It is one that has had ~~least~~ the experience & training in India. There is the sort of man that is really needed & such persons are available. The University may be told that ~~there~~ it should not depend upon its ignorant servants. Let me be glad to lead an open door available here in this case of Dr Mathai ^{has} required in India till the middle of 1927, but do not consider that it will lead to office. Before the end of 1926, the University must make independent arrangements & appoint a professor.

D.O. no. 4472 A/25.4/2.2.26

Dear Sir Venkatratnam Nayudigar,

I am to invite a reference to the corresponding ending with you. 160 days 2/4/26 regarding the filling of the post of Professor of Economics under the University. In the opinion of the Government, it is not desirable that the University ~~should depend on~~ Government servants for filling the post, especially as there are a large number of persons outside public service who have specialised in the subject. The Government also consider that the Professor of Economics should be a full-time officer to enable to carry on research work and help in the study of the ~~subject by~~ University students. I am accordingly to suggest that arrangements may be made to fill the post of Professor of Economics from among qualified candidates outside public service ^{if possible} before 31-7-1926.

Yours
