Sir,

P. 1 super

With reference to your memorandum No. 899-C-1 dated 19th March 1926 re supply of University Calendars, I have the honour to inform you that it is usual for Messrs. Higginbothams Ltd., Mount Road, Madras, the agents for the sale of University publications to make the necessary arrangements for their supply to Government officers and institutions on payment under specific instructions from the Superintendent of Stationery, Madras. In December 1924 it appears that that officer issued a circular to the firm directing that the supply be stopped to the officers mentioned in the standing list furnished by him in August previous but that each officer should be directly addressed on the subject and orders registered and executed. Accordingly the firm reports that you were addressed on this matter but that no reply was received, and hence they could not supply you with the requisite number of copies of Calendars. They further report that two copies each of volumes I and II for 1925-26 were supplied to the Superintendent, Secretariat Library on 24th March 1926 as per his telephonic message of that date. If you should separately require copies I would suggest that Messrs. Higginbothams be addressed direct

No such communication is hereafter to be received from the Co. to the tel message asking for reply

They are right

forthwith stating the number of copies required by you.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Subject Supply of copies of the University Calendar to the Govt

Prior to 1924 the Superintendent of Stationery used to arrange for the supply of two copies of the Madras University Calendar to this Dept on payment and the cost was debited to "46. Stationery and Printing". In Gov no 678 Finance d 13.9.24 the Govt directed that heads of departments should send direct to the publishers their orders for periodicals and newspapers required for themselves and the officers subordinate to them, the cost being met from the provision under 'Contingencies' in the departmental budget.

The University suggests that,
