The humble memorial of Drawing Master of the Govt. Training School.

Respectfully sheweth.

That the humble memorialist begs to point out that though art is the basis of true education, it has been given a very insignificant place in the school curriculum and the importance of the art master has not yet received its due recognition at the hands of the Educational authorities. There is another disadvantage ^{under} which the art master is handicapped. The drill instructor's training is only for 9 months and he cannot be called a full time worker and his work is, for all practical considerations, extra educational; Yet he stands in the same cadre as the art master who has undergone five years training to qualify himself for the final diploma of that profession.

While giving due importance to the necessity of sound physical instruction, I humbly beg to state that the two cadres may be separated and the art master may in the fitness of things be placed on a par with the commercial Instructor both in grade and emoluments as art has also a commercial value beside its educational importance as it equips a person for a vocation in life.

The humble memorialist further begs to invite his honour's kind attention to the fact that the Drawing masters as other officers of the subordinate services are hit hard by the rising level of prices and their present salary is hardly sufficient to provide them with the barest necessities of existence and even their children's education has been so costly to them that they cannot provide for it out of their limited and small income.

The humble memorialist therefore prays that the following grades of pay may be sanctioned in the interests of the efficiency of the service.

Grade.	Qualification.	Pay.	Training college.
1.	Holders of the Madras Government Diploma in drawing	80-4-120	For college
2.	Holders of the Group certificate of the Madras Govt.	50-3-80	For Training School

For this act of kindness the humble memorialist prays for his honour's long life and prosperity.

2. The memorialist admits the fact that his subject viz Drawing does not occupy a prominent place in the School Curriculum and still desires to be placed on a par with Commercial Instructors in regard to pay. The Drawing master in a Secondary School is not expected to hold a Diploma in Drawing. The Scale of pay fixed for a Drawing master in a Secondary School viz Rs 25-1.50 seems sufficient.

3. This memorial was held up pending awaiting receipt of similar memorials from the Drawing masters employed in other institutions. Hence the delay.

The humble memorial of Drawing Master of the Govt. Training School. Calicut

Respectfully sheweth.

That the humble memorialist begs to point out that though art is the basis of true education, it has been given a very insignificant place in the school curriculum and the importance of the art master has not yet received its due recognition at the hands of the Educational authorities. There is another disadvantage under which the art master is handicapped. The drill instructor's training is only for 9 months and he cannot be called a full time worker and his work is, for all practical considerations, extra educational; Yet he stands in the same eadre as the art master who has undergone five years training to qualify himself for the final diploma of that profession.

While giving due importance to the necessity of sound physical instruction, I humbly beg to state that the two cadres may be separated and the art master may in the fitness of things be placed on a par with the commercial Instructor both in grade and emoluments as art has also a commercial value beside its educational importance as it equips a person for a vocation in life.

The humble memorialist further begs to invite his honour's kind attention to the fact that the Drawing masters as other officers of the subordinate services are hit hard by the rising level of prices and their present salary is hardly sufficient to provide them with the barest necessities of existence and even their children's education has been so costly to them that they cannot provide for it out of their limited and small income.

The humble memorialist therefore prays that the following grades of pay may be sanctioned in the interests of the efficiency of the services.

Grade.	Qualification.	Pay.	Training college.
1.	Holders of the Madras Government Diploma in drawing	80-4-120	For college
2.	Holders of the Group certificate of the Madras Govt.	50-3-80	For Training School

For this act of kindness the humble memorialist prays for his honour's long life and prosperity.

Your honour's humble memorialist begs to subscribe as,
