- ((i) to draw attention to the defects of the present Madras University system especially as to the representations to the Senate from the Municipalities, Local Boards, on of bodies)
- ((ii) to enquire what the private endowments for The Andhra University are and are expected).

(1) Defects in the present Madras University system:

As regards representation on the Senate of local boards and municipalities, to which the member desires to draw ~~the~~ specific attention, it may be observed that under section 14, class III - (6), ^{of the Act} two members for each district one elected by the members of the district board from among themselves and the other by the municipal councillors of the municipalities in the district from among themselves (districts in the returned Andhra University area excluded) may be ~~excluded~~ to the Senate ~~with~~ which is the supreme governing body of the University.

As regards representation on the other authorities of the University, local bodies are not directly represented on the Syndicate and the academic council, the reason being obvious, namely, that the former is an executive body and the latter as its name indicates ^{is} an academic one concerned mainly with the regulations of the University. Representation of local bodies on the Council of Affiliated Colleges is provided for in section 26(1) (iii) under which one member for each district (districts in the Andhra University area excluded) may be elected by the

in the Act, members of local bodies can come in indirectly, as shown below: --

Under section 18 class II-(1), (2) and (3), members to the Syndicate may be elected by the Senate, the Academic Council and the Council of Affiliated colleges from among their members.

Under section 23 (1) Class II-(3) who are not engaged in teaching or members of the Syndicate five members may be elected by the Senate to the Academic council from among its own body. As the Senate includes representatives of local bodies, it is possible for the latter to get into the Academic council.

2. It is not known what other defects in the "system" the member has in mind. During the recent budget debate he urged the representation of Indian Christians in all institutions. Perhaps he may dwell on the need for the representation of his community on the University authorities. The Act nominates to the Senate by the Chancellor of that members of whom not less than twenty shall be for the provides for the representation of communities not otherwise adequately represented.

If the member refers to any defects in the wording of the Act, he may be informed that the question of amending the Act is under consideration.

So far only the Krishna District Board has promised a sum of three lakhs towards the general expenses of the Andhra University and the payment of the contribution has been sanctioned by the Government in the L.S.G. department. The Guntur District Board has promised a contribution of 1 lakh provided certain conditions are satisfied. The subject is under correspondence with the District Board.
