Enclosures.

SIR,

With reference to G.O., R-No. 216, Educational, dated 10th April 1899, exempting L. Prakasa Rao, Probationary Inspector of Police, Ganjam District, from passing the Precise Writing Test until the results of the examination in October 1899 were known, I have the honour to state that he has failed again to pass this test.

2. The Inspector rose from the ranks. He is a Matriculate and has passed the Criminal Test, Lower grade, and the final examination of the Vellore Police Training School where he was trained. He was appointed Inspector in July 1897. The periodical reports on him have been good, and the Deputy Inspector-General, who inspected his Division in August 1898, remarked that he is a very promising young Inspector who takes an intelligent interest in his work. The Superintendent in recommending the Inspector's permanent exemption from the Precise Writing Test reports that he has been doing very well and is, in fact, the best of the Probationary Inspectors under him.

3. As it is probable that he may never be able to pass the examination, and as it is not easy to get good and competent Inspectors for Telugu Districts, I beg strongly to recommend that that the Government may be pleased to exempt Probationary Inspector L. Prakasa Rao from passing the Precise Writing Test. From my experience the standard enforced by this test appears to vary considerably. Men who apparently thoroughly understand English and precise reports fairly well fail, while sometimes men who do not appear to have similar knowledge pass.

4. The usual application for exemption is attached.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedt. servant,

H. M. Mally

for Insp. Genl. of Police.
