Letter No. 234 dated 17th January 1900 from G. F.
Handcock Esq., Executive Engineer, Bellary Division, to the Superintending Engineer III Circle, Bellary.

With reference to your endorsement No. 4677, dated 29th ultimo, directing that the appointments of 2nd clerks of Sub Division Offices sanctioned in G.O. No. 3226 W of 12th Idem, should be filled up by passed candidates, I have the honour to state that all the temporary clerks in this Division are unpassed men.

Some of them have put in long service in the Department and have acquired knowledge and experience in departmental procedure and practice and make very good office clerks.

In my opinion it would be a great injustice not to recognise their services when permanent appointments fall vacant and I therefore hope you will be good enough to see your way to getting the following two men exempted from the examination rules in view to their nomination to the two appointments now created by the above G.O.

i. M. S. Jeevarathnam (Passed Lower Secondary

PW 2.4
1237/00

Secondary) was appointed as temporary clerk on Rs 20 in November 1896 and has been employed ever since as the Record-keeper of this Office.

Though he had very heavy work to do during the late famine (the work now too is not light) he managed his work so well that the records are in tolerably fair order considering the difficulties he had to contend with. He is intelligent and quick at work and his exemption is strongly recommended.

2. b. Venkatachari (Passed Middle School) has been connected with the Department for about 7 years - First as Maistry for 3 years and then as temporary clerk on Rs 15 for 4 years.

He was also for a time the Head Clerk of one of the Famine Sub Divisions in the Anantapur District on Rs 30. He has a very good record of service as evidenced by his testimonials and is intelligent and hard working.

The present Sub Division Officer, Anantapur, has recommended him for one of the appointments in question and I support his recommendation.

No 183W of 12 January 1900

Forwarded to the Chief Engineer, P.W.
Department with a strong recommendation that the men in question may be appointed as permanent clerks on Rs 15-20.

2. Experience and service in the Department should not be altogether set aside in favour of examinations.

3. The principle on which temporary upper subordinates, who have done good work in the Department, are now eligible for permanent appointments, may with advantage be applied also to the clerical establishment in the lower grades, such as Sub Division clerks.

Exemption from the examination rules.

FOR ORDERS.

Cuo 207. E.

With its endorsement no 803 C of 13th February 1900 the PWD forwarded an application from the Superintending Engineer 3rd Circle for the permanent exemption from the examination rules of two clerks employed in the Wasp & Anantapur Sub divisions. The ground for the exemption was experience & service in the department as temporary clerks.

The department was then asked to ascertain & report whether passed candidates could not be obtained by advertisement or otherwise.

Cuo 367. C.

The reply is that pending orders on the application for exemption no efforts have been made to secure the services of passed men. In the circumstances, if submitted that the application may be refused for the present. it may be renewed should it be found in possible to get passed men 29.9.00
