No. of 189

KISTNA DISTRICT.
COLLECTOR'S OFFICE,
MASULIPATAM.
29th May 1899.

FROM,

R. Morris Esqr.,

COLLECTOR, KISTNA DISTRICT.

TO,

The Secretary to Government, Educational
Local & Municipal Department.

FORT SAINT GEORGE.

SIR,

- H ✓ In my letter dated 11th January 1899, CN 35-BH.G of 1899, I applied for the permanent exemption from Educational Tests of my typist P. Subbarao. After some correspondence the Government eventually extended by one year in G.O. No 329 Educational, dated 8th June 1899, the exemption previously granted in G.O. No 495 R, Educational, dated 16th December 1897.
- A D 2. That period has now expired, and Subbarao is still unqualified. I have advertised in the Madras News Papers for a qualified type-writing clerk, but have failed to obtain an application from any person who is suitable. I would therefore again respectfully ask that the Government will be pleased to permanently exempt P. Subbarao from the operation of the Examination rules.
3. As the rules at present stand, P. Subbarao, to be confirmed, requires to have passed the Upper Secondary Examination or the Matriculation or some higher examination of the University, with the hand-writing Test and the intermediate Government technical examination in typewriting. His present position is that he has passed the Middle School examination in the 2nd class. He appeared for the Upper Secondary Examination in December 1896, but failed as he did not secure the minimum number of marks in translation. He passed in August 1897 the type-writing Test in the Elementary grade. In April of this year, he appeared for the intermediate examination, but the result is not yet known.

4. He was entertained as typist sub-protem in the Public Department of the Secretariat Office in April 1896 on Rs 21 and he says he was given to understand by the then Chief Secretary to Government that he would be confirmed if he passed the type-writing Elementary Test. In the meantime however G.O. No 366 Educational, dated 1st July 1897 ✓ P was passed which prescribed that after the 1st January 1898 candidates for the post of typewriting clerks would be required to have passed the intermediate examination in type-writing for a post on Rs 30 - the pay of typist in my office.

5. My predecessor Mr. Batten advertised in August 1897 for a type-writing clerk. P. Subbaskar among others applied and Mr. Batten appointed him by an order dated 24th September 1897 which was before the date which ~~was~~ it was necessary for candidates to have qualified by the test prescribed in the educational G.O. of the 1st July 1897 just quoted. But he could not join until after a type-writer had been obtained from the Superintendent of Stationery and consequently took up his appointment only on the 6th July 1898 or after the rule had come into force. In consequence of his appointment to my office he was not confirmed in the Secretariat. But he gives me to understand that one A. Krishnaswami aiyar, who has passed no higher examination than the Primary, and who entered the Secretariat office after him has been appointed to a permanent typist's place in that office, and his argument is that had he remained on, he would have been given the appointment that had been conferred on Krishnaswami aiyar, or another on the same pay.

6. If the Government does not consider that there is sufficient reason to exempt P. Subbaskar permanently from all tests, I would request that he be exempted until the end of June next year, and that he be allowed to appear for the upper Secondary Examination in December next in Translation only in accordance with the rule that was in force up to 1894. This will enable him to qualify by a general educational test and to appear for the intermediate type-writing test next year in the event of his not passing that test this year.

7. His speed is fair, although I should have liked to see him type faster. But as I have said above, my advertisements have failed to secure an application from any suitable man, and my only alternative, if P. Subbakoos is not exempted for a further period from the operation of the examination rules, is to do without a typist clerk altogether.

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Wingwanch
For Collector.

5 Educational DEPARTMENT.

C. No. 733 of 1900.

SUBJECT.

Exemption from Examin. rules.

FOR ORDERS.

G

The Board of Revenue proposed in its Pro. no 4209 dated 8th Nov. 1897, that two appointments in Collector's offices, one on Rs 30 and another on Rs 20, should be declared to be copyists appointments and that candidates for such appointments should only be required to pass the handwriting test and the intermediate essays in type-writing. But before orders were passed on these proposals the Collector of Kistna proposed to employ P. Subba Rao (then a typist in the Chief Secretariat) as a typewriting copyist on Rs 30 in his office and applied for his exemption from the examination rules, as he had not passed any general education test.

D.

On this the Board observed that if the proposals in its Pro. no 4209 & 8th Nov-97 were approved P. Subba Rao would not require to be exempted from passing the usual general education test and recommended that he might be temporarily exempted from passing the Upper Secondary examinations for a period of six months. In G.O. No 495 Ed & 16th Dec - 1897, the Govt accordingly exempted P. Subba Rao from the examination rules for a period of six months.

2. In January 1899, the collector reported that the exemption granted to P. Subba Rao had expired on the 6th January 1899 and requested that he might be exempted permanently. On being requested to state the special grounds on which the permanent exemption of P. Subba Rao was asked for, the collector reported that P. Subba Rao was selected for the appointment of typist in his office on the strength of the wording of the testimonial given him by Sir. Fred. Price,

H.

Chief Secretary; that he was the best candidate available at the time and that but for his seeking employment elsewhere he would have been confirmed as Typewriter on Rs 23 in the Chief Secretariat.

3. But as final orders had not then issued on the proposals made by the Board regarding the qualifications to be demanded of typewriting clerks in Collectors' offices, the temporary exemption granted to P. Subba Rao was extended by one year - vide G.O. no 329 Ed & 8th June 1899.

A.

4. This period has now expired and orders have also been passed as regards the qualifications of typewriting clerks in Collectors' offices. Under these orders candidates for the two appointments of 'Copyist and typewriting clerk' in Collectors' offices should have qualified according to article 2 of the Public Service notification and have passed the intermediate examination in typewriting.

5. But P. Subba Rao is not qualified according to article 2

note to art 4(13) of the
Public Service Notifn. R

of the public service notification and also has not passed the intermediate examination in type writing. He appeared for the upper secondary examn in 1896 and failed it is said only in translation. This year he has appeared for the intermediate examination in type writing but the result is not yet known.

6. The Collector therefore requests that P. Subba Rao may be exempted permanently from all tests - i.e. upper secondary examn and the intermediate examn in type writing, for confirmation as a typist in his office; or that, if the Govt does not consider that there is sufficient reasons for permanent exemption, he may be temporarily exempted until the 30th June 1901 and permitted to appear for the upper secondary examinations in December next in translation only, in accordance with the rule that was in force up to 1894.

7. The Collector also notes

He has not passed. vide page 2 of the Fort St. George Gazette suppl. 8/12-600 J.

that his advertisements have failed to secure an application from any suitable man and that if Subba Rao is not exempted for a further period, he will have to do without a type writing clerk altogether.

8. There does not appear to be sufficient ground for exempting P. Subba Rao from passing the upper secondary examinations as well as the intermediate examn in type writing and the Collector's request that P. Subba Rao may be permitted to appear for the upper secondary examination in translation only does not appear to be a feasible one, it not being definitely known whether he failed only in translation and he having appeared for the examn when candidates were required to come up in all subjects at one and the same examn.

In consideration of the fact that he was taken into the Collector's office on the supposition that he would not be required to pass the upper secondary examinations on any general education test and that he lost the chance of being confirmed in the Chief Secretariat on account of his joining the Collector's office, he may perhaps be exempted from passing the upper secondary examination permanently and from examination ~~provided he passes~~ the intermediate examination in typewriting ~~within a year~~ temporarily until the 30th June 1901.
