Narasinga Rao is an Invalid
Pensioner. Under art. 574, C.S.R. there is no bar to his reemployment if he has regained his health now; and sanction of Govt. to his reemployment is not therefor necessary. The application is for exemption from Examination rules.
So this may, it is submitted, be transferred to the Educational Dept.

NOTE FOR THE ASSISTANT SECRETARY.

K. Narasinga Rao was a I class I grade clerk when he retired and he was appointed to act in the same capacity from 14th June to 11th July 1900. It does not appear therefore that any exemption is necessary in his case. All that is required seems to be a medical certificate under article 574 C.S.R. that he has regained his health. The P.W.D. it will be seen, transferred the application to the Pension department with reference to an order of the latter department No 34 d/10-1-96 that all applications for the re-employment of pensioners will in future be dealt with in that department.

No precedent can be traced either granting exemption in a similar case or declaring that exemption is not necessary.

The production of a medical certificate under art. 574 of the C.S.R. is necessary, but that does not concern the Educl. department. The cases
