The Secretary to Government
Local Municipal Schemes

Honoured Sir,

I beg respectfully to submit the following case for orders of Government.

I passed the matriculation examination in 1894. In 1895 I joined the Engineer Subordinate Class, College of Engineering, Madras and having undergone the prescribed course of theoretical and practical training I successfully passed the Overseer's test in 1898. Subsequently I was employed for some time as a temporary overseer in the Public Works Department but my services were dispensed with recently. The question which I beg leave to submit for orders is whether, having passed the matriculation examination and the Overseer's test, I am eligible without passing the handwriting test for employment in the Clerical or Executive establishment of any Department other than the P.W.D.

on Rs 15 and upwards, such for instance as the Forest, Abkari and etc. The note to Para 172 II(6) of the Madras Public Works Code (Edition of 1886) lays down that a Certificate of having passed the old General test Examination in English or the overseer's test will be held to be equivalent to the middle School examination in the 18th class or the matriculation examination together with the handwriting test but the Public Service notification is silent on the subject. In these circumstances I beg respectfully to be favoured with a ruling on the point.

I beg to remain,
Sir

Your most obedient servant

C. No. 513

SUBJECT.

Employment in the public service.

FOR ORDERS

The Public works department code of 1886 is not in force now and there is no provision in the code ^{at present} in force, under which the overseer's test can be regarded as equivalent to the matriculation examination with the handwriting test.

2. As the rules now stand petitioner is not eligible for a clerk's post on Rs. 15 and upwards in any department or for employment in the executive establishment of any department other than the Public works and minor irrigation departments. The fact of his having passed the overseer's test may however be made a ground for his exemption in case he applies for it.

The question put by the petitioner may be answered in the negative. The point at A ^{does} not, of course,
