SUBJECT.

FOR ORDERS.

These are the papers about Mr. Atkinson.
Originally, the Committee* suggested the grant of privilege leave. Then they recommended a glass fullness in addition. Simply for three months. & so in the Committee's proceedings of 8 February it was stated that Mr. Atkinson's absence would probably be for a prolonged period, & as the nature of his illness was known, it was proposed to give Mr. Atkinson pay fullness or half pay up to the end of his agreement & to appoint Mr. Elmer to act on $700 a month. While these proposals were with the H.C., a recommendation came in from the Committee to fix the acting allowance at $500, & this was decided on.

If it is decided to give Mr Atkinson a larger allowance than ~~the~~ half pay, this might be done to the extent of giving him £200 a month more; & the position would still be the same as that decided in Mr Skamich's note: the Hon. Mr Brundel, it is seen, was in the first instance ready to give Mr Elwes £700 & only reduced this, I understand, on hearing that the Committee had proposed the lower salary of £500. So there was a saving of £200 a month on the original calculation. I venture to suggest that if there is any alteration in this respect, it will be better to carry it out by simply stating that the allowances of Mr Atkinson during ^{this} leave will be so many hundred rupees: it would be needless to class the leave by a fiction as "privilege leave" for a time & then "furlough" as Mr Atkinson is not subject to the C.S. Regs.

The last proposal of the Committee was to give Mr Atkinson 3 months P. Leave to be affixed to the furlough. The C.S. Regs. do not of course apply but I think they of course apply there if it comes. Mr Atkinson had had leave in 1897 so that if he were in Fort Service he would be entitled to 3 months Priv. Leave.

Fort has of late always refused to allow permission to officers of the Lawrence Asylum, but it is submitted that this is no argument against granting a leave allowance at least as liberal as that allowed by C.S. Regs.

A pension charge may last for years & finally exhaust the finances of the Institution. In this case we can calculate exactly the amount of the leave allowance & we know that the Funds of the Institution can easily meet the charge.

Considering the very exceptional circumstances of the case I think that the concession may be allowed that the first three months of the furlough be regarded as priv. leave. Let H.M. see. H.M. 8.4.
