To

The Secretary to Government,

Educational Department.

Sir,

Miss Paulie acting Headmistress, Government Hobart Training school for Mistresses, Madras, having passed the Vernacular Examination in Hindustani in December last, applies for the munshi allowance of Rs.240 under article 6 of the notification printed as appendix to G.O.No 573, Educational, dated 15th September 1896. Miss Paulie entered service on 2nd September 1899, and passed the examination in January 1901.

According to the strict letter of the rule, Miss Paulie does not appear to be entitled to the allowance, she having put in a service of over one year on the date of the examination. But the rule obviously allows twelve months for study, the munshi allowance of Rs.240 being calculated to cover this period at the ordinary rate of Rs.20 a month; and as Miss Paulie has passed at the first examination held after the expiry of this period, she seems to me to be entitled to the allowance. I beg to recommend, therefore, that it be sanctioned.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

G.H. Stuart

Director of Public Instruction.

SUBJECT.

Miss Paulie's claim for munshi allowance

FOR ORDERS

As to whether the allowance may be sanctioned. Under rule 6 Miss Paulie should have passed the examination before 2nd September 1900: but she passed it only in January 1901. The Director recommends the grant of the allowance.

17/5/01

Sanction may be given.

The defect is in the wording of the rule, which introduces the accident of the date of the examination, over which the candidate has of course no control; as the exam. in this case was in January, Miss Paulie was obliged to go up in that month or else after. say, seven or eight months service. The latter would have been unfair to her.
