Sir,

I have the honour to inform you that at the Final Examination for the grade of Assistant Surgeon held S.S. Student. last month, Singapore apprentice R.W.Nickelson passed in the Second Class.

His Certificate of Qualification will be sent later on.

Perak Student. 2. Apprentice T.T.Legge failed at the Second Examination and has been recommended to be re-examined at the end of three months and to be remanded ~~with~~ stipend, if he fails then.

S.S. Student. E.L.D'Souza who was debarred from appearing for the Second Examination for failure in three subjects at the Class Examination, has been recommended to be dismissed.

Perak Student. As regards A.H.Wheatley, he did not qualify by obtaining the Certificate in Surgery in his class subjects.
He however appeared for the Second Examination of which Surgery does not form part and is declared to have passed the examination. In accordance with the College Rules, having having failed in a subject as a remanded student, he should be dismissed, seeing that only one remand is permitted to any student. It rests however with the authorities who stipend the student to say if they are willing to continue the stipend of the remanded student, and the College Council, taking into consideration that the subject in which he failed to obtain a certificate, did not form part of the Second Examination he appeared at, recommend for favourable consideration the second remand of this student with stipend for another year. The effect of this remand is not, however, to extend the period of further training of the student. He will proceed to his fourth or final year subjects next session, but will have to take a course of Surgery over again.
