To,

His Excellency the Right Honorable Lord Amherst G. C. I. C., Governor in Council, Coatacamund.

Through,

The Paymaster, Carnatic Stipends.

The second and most humble petition of Syed Mohammad Enimulla Sharif nachi, the eldest son of the late Dr. Syed Mohiuddin Sharif Khan Bahadur, G. M. M. C., J. M. E., the Honorary Surgeon of Royapettah Dispensary, residing at No. 64, Jani gellan Khan Road, Royapettah, Madras.

most respectfully sheweth,

That your Excellency's most humble petitioner on 20th May 1901 submitted through the Paymaster, Carnatic Stipends his petition No. 206 to your Excellency in Council praying for an exemption from passing the Upper Secondary Examination, so as to enable him to get into government service on a certain grounds therein more particularly mentioned, when your Excellency in Council was pleased to pass order No. 308 dated 5th June 1901 whereby it is quite essential that any head of a department should wish to employ him.

That your Excellency's most humble petitioner at the time of his late and very deeply lamented father's death was a mere boy of about 8 or 9 years of age, and so he was not in a position to know which of the European officers here in Madras were on very intimate terms with his said late father who was a big functionary himself and one who was held in high admiration and great respect both by the European officers and the natives of Madras during his life time. A few of these gentlemen whom your Excellency's most humble petitioner has now picked up decline to take as much interest in him as your Excellency in Council contemplates in the said G. C., for many a passed and highly qualified man is available and ready to serve on even the lowest of salaries. But, if Dr. King, the Ex-Sanitary Commissioner of Madras and a contemporary officer of your Excellency's most humble petipetitioner's father, who has, ever since his demise, had a paternal regard for your Excellency's most humble petitioner and who is now in England on furlough, had been in Bradcas now, he would most certainly, on perusing the present order no. 308 aforesaid, have done a good deal in the way of helping your Excellency's most humble petitioner by providing him with a situation in his own department, or, seeing that he is given a footing in government service elsewhere.

That the said late father of your Excellency's most humble petitioner was in the receipt of a monthly salary of nearly something like Rs. 500 from the benign British Government, and, was, on an average, making about Rs. 500 every month by private practice, and, thus getting altogether Rs. 1000 nearly, by far the major portion of which income he used to spend in maintaining his family and meeting the charges of his domestic establishment on a grand scale, in helping such of his relatives as were poor and deserving of his help, and in giving charity to the poor people at large, and out of what was a minor portion of his income that could be saved he paid the dowry of four of his daughters and defrayed their marriage expenses, and the comparatively little portion of the estate he left at his death has now been all exhausted during the course of the past more than 10 years in bringing up the whole family besides maintaining the education of his male children, so much so that the family is now left penniless, and the two younger brothers of your Excellency's most humble petitioner who should appear for the Matriculation Examination this year have, for lack of means, been compelled to stay away from their school.

That your Excellency's most humble petitioner has this further difficulty in not having been favoured with exemption absolutely without any reservation, that in order to better his future prospects he is unable to appear for any of the ~~the~~ special tests, where he is neither a pass candidate nor one exempted from the Examination Rules.

Your Excellency's most humble petitioner therefore in the absence of any head of a department to accept his services or any officer to recommend him for a situation, and, not having even a single pie now remaining out of his said father's estate or any body to help the family in their present distressed circumstances, most humbly prays that your Excellency in Council will be most graciously pleased to exempt him from passing the Upper Secondary Examination, so as to enable him to get into any one of the various departments, where, without any influence as he now is, it would rather be very difficult for him to get a footing and to maintain the education of his two younger brothers which has now been quite stopped and to provide for the family; for this act of charity and generosity your Excellency's most humble petitioner and his father's said family shall ever pray.

Dated 4th July 1901.
