Sir,

With reference to Memorandum No. 342 dated 27th Instant calling on me to explain why I have not passed the Account Test, Higher Grade, of the Tests prescribed for Deputy Collectors, within the probationary period allowed me in G.O. No. 2522 Revenue dated 15th June 1898 and 2006 Revenue dated 27th July 1900, I beg to state that I appeared

R.S. 2150/01

Last October for the Test in question, but unfortunately failed in the Account Code paper only by 1 mark, a very few marks.

This failure I attribute to my never having been given the opportunity of undergoing Treasury training and to much of my spare time being taken up not only in the preparation for the other Tests I had to pass in, but also in work out of office hours.
Having also passed the Criminal Higher Test many years ago when I was invested with Magisterial powers it was necessary to refresh my memory and I had therefore also to devote my time to the study of the Criminal Code and other law works.

I beg respectfully to urge that at this time of my life (I am now 41 years of age) and after a Service of 18 years, it is rather tiring after a day's hard work to sit up and study for examinations especially for an examination on Subjects which I have not to deal with so far as my present work is concerned.

I therefore beg that if the Government have found that I have done justice to my work it will be graciously pleased, considering my having passed so many tests since entering the Public Service, to exempt me from passing this solitary test if not altogether, at least during such time as I am employed as a Residence Magistrate where a knowledge of Treasury Accounts and procedure is not a Sine Qua Non.

Should even this concession be not granted then I would humbly request my probationary period be extended until the results of the next Examination, for which I have appeared, are published.

I beg to remain
Your most obedient Servant

Misc. of 12th Sept. 1901

Mr Gahan explains that his failure in the Acet test was due

- (1) to his not having had any opportunity to undergo treasury training
- (2) to his time being taken ^{up} with ^{the} preparation for other tests (Rev: and a vernac?).
- (3) to his having had to read up the books for the Criminal test which he had passed long ago.

He requests that as he is now old (41 years) with 18 years service and as he has not to deal with acet in his present appt. of Pres. magistrate he may be exempted from the test; or if, this be not done, his period of probⁿ may be extended until the results of the next acet examⁿ are known.

The Board of Rev: supports the second request.

Mr Gahan is still a Dy Coll^t and his Pres^t magistrateship is but a posting.
