Gentlemen,

The Accountant General is about to carry out under the orders of Government an examination of the aluminium branch of the local School of Arts. An important part of this examination will be the taking and valuing of the stock of metal and finished & unfinished work on the last day of the calendar year, and to do this properly the Accountant General's representative will require the assistance of some one who is practically acquainted with work of the kind. I am directed to enquire whether you can assist Government in this matter by recommending a competent person. The stock will be taken during the Christmas holidays. The Govt. will pay ^{a suitable} whatever fee you may consider suitable.
