Most honourable

I wrote you last month that I had not received the copy of vol. 13 of the Indian Census Report for 1891 ordered by you for me at August 26th last (n. 473) and separately sent by parcel-post.

I must let you know that, at my request, a search was made in the railway stations in Paris and that the search was successful. The book was found at last and brought to me in a tolerable state of preservation. They pretended they were unable to let me have it before because the address on the parcel was defective and insufficient.

I can then thank you very heartily and to pray you, by the same time, to order my address shall be put in future as under.

Yours most respectfully

Prof. Julius Vinson
