CURRENT

PROCEEDINGS OF THE MADRAS GOVERNMENT.

Read the following paper:—

Z Endorsement of the Educational Department, No. 96, dated 9th April 1902 on letter from the Honorary Secretary, Civil Orphan Asylum, Madras, No. 118, dated 13th March 1902.

Copy attached

From the Surgeon-General, Madras, No. T.1/46, dated 12th
May 1902.

ORDER:—No. 532, dated 4th June 1902.

The Government are pleased to rule that the resident staff of the Civil Orphan Asylum, Madras, with their families, shall in future, be entitled to gratuitous medical attendance from the medical officers attached to that institution.
2. The Government consider that the question raised in paragraph 8 of the Honorary Secretary's letter above read is one for the consideration of the Directors in consultation with the medical officer. The suggestions of the Surgeon-General on the subject will be commended to the Directors.

(Circulated to the Hon. Mr. Thomson ICS)

Copy of letter from the Surgeon-General, Madras, No. T. 1/46, dated 12th May 1902:-

As on enquiry I find ~~that~~ the establishments connected with the Gun Carriage Factory & Harness & Saddlery Works, Perambore, as also the resident staff at Government House, with their families in all cases, have gratuitous medical attendance, I recommend that the resident staff attached to the Civil Orphan Asylums, with their families, be granted a similar privilege, i.e. that the request of the Directors be complied with.

2. Regarding the subject dealt with in para .8 of the Honorary Secretary's letter - how to deal with infectious cases occurring amongst the families of the resident staff - it is not easy to prescribe any general rules. Proper segregation or segregation likely to be effective in the houses of the members of the staff is probably rarely possible. Isolation in hospital might be more easily carried out. But first cases or early attacks should, if possible, be sent to some ~~homes~~ in the country where contact with other children would be less likely and would be more under control, ☐ whether orphans or children of the staff. If any disease became epidemic in the institution and a large number were affected the sick should be treated on the premises, the healthy being sent elsewhere. The responsible medical officers should decide what is best under the particular circumstance.
