DM No 171 d/ 3-7-02.

In para. 9 of the report on the school of arts for 1901-1902 the number of paying pupils is given as 332 whereas there were only 321 pupils on the rolls. The difference is not explained by attributing it to the inclusion of pupils paying extra fees for the engraving and modelling classes who were only six. The D.P.I. is therefore requested to ascertain and report the correct explanation of the discrepancy.

The Secretary to Government,

In reply to Memorandum No 171, dated 3rd July 1902

I have the honour to say that the difference of 11 between 332, the number of fees received, and 321 the number of individual pupils on the rolls, is due to the payment of extra fees for Engraving and English by 5 and 6 pupils respectively. In the explanation at the close of paragraph 9 the word "English" should therefore be read instead of "Modelling". The one fee paid for modelling was not an extra fee: the one pupil who learnt modelling (Elementary) only is included in the 73 pupils of the Elementary class in the first table of paragraph 9, but in the second table only 72 fees are shown as being received for Elementary drawing, the remaining fee (making 73) being shown separately as being received for Elementary Modelling.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J. N. Shaw
