The Secretary to Government,
Educational Department.

Sir,

It has been the practice in the Teachers' College to contribute annually to Government Rs.40 from the funds of the Recreation club attached to it on account of the English and Indian periodicals supplied to the students. There appears to be no distinct order of Government on which the claim is based but the practice dates from 1893 when the Reading Room which was a private institution attached to the Recreation club has amalgamated with the College, and the supply to it of certain periodicals was sanctioned in G.O.R. No 812, dated 16th November 1893, a part of the cost having been proposed in this office letter No B.B/1025, dated 10th November 1893 to be met from the fee receipts of the Reading Room. The Principal now represents that the Club funds are inadequate to keep it properly supplied with cricketing football and other requisites, which are expensive, and requests that Government will be pleased to waive its claim to the annual contribution of Rs.40, and I beg to support the request more especially as it does not appear that other Government institutions are required to make any contribution towards the cost of the periodicals supplied by Government for the use of the students.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

G.A. Street

Teachers' College reading room.

The proposal of the D.P.I. may, it is submitted be sanctioned. The Teachers' College stands on a different footing from other institutions; here the students pay nothing for the instructions they receive; they are trained at the cost of Govt. under an agreement to serve the Govt. in the capacity of teachers for a certain number of years. The students can^{not} therefore be required to contribute towards the cost of the reading room of the College and it is in the interest of Govt. to supply the students with educational journals which are calculated to improve them in various ways. There was apparently no necessity to recognize the reading room. The

It doesn't very much matter which way you regard the matter. If contribution has been paid & I think it will be simplest for the Govt. to say that they waive their claim to it. Never mind whether that claim was paid or had. If that point is raised, we shall be asked to refund past contributions, & I think there have been justifiably levied.

periodicals should have been and should be submitted, hence, regarded as supplied to the Library of the College entirely supported by Govt.
