The Secretary to Government,

Educational Department.

Sir,

I beg to recommend that Government will be pleased to permanently exempt V. B. Kunhi Paker, sub pro tem Special Fund Clerk, Wynad Taluk Office from the dictation and hand writing test. The clerk who is a Mappilla by caste has passed the First in Arts Examination.

2. In its order No. 360 Edl. dated 15-5-'02 Government sanctioned his exemption until the results of the dictation and handwriting test held that month were published. As he was not successful on that occasion a fresh application for exemption was submitted and accordingly in G.O. R.No. 547 Edl. dated 14-8-'02 the exemption was extended until the publication of the results of the examination of last December. The clerk appeared for that examination also and was again unsuccessful. The Deputy Collector of Wynad now recommends that he may be permanently exempted from the examination.

3. He is reported to be a useful clerk and to have worked satisfactorily for the period of about one year during which he has been employed in the Wynad Taluk Office. He writes a fairly neat and legible hand. In view of the favourable report made of the clerk and of the fact that he has passed the First in Arts examination and belongs to a class who are poorly represented in the public service I beg to support the Deputy Collector's recommendation.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,

M. Varghese

For Collector.

C. No. 625 From the Offr of Malabar No. 463 dated 15th April 1903.

SUBJECT.

Permanent exemption from the hand-writing and dictation test.

Orders are solicited as to whether the permanent exemption applied for should be granted. The necessity for permanent exemption is not very apparent. The clerk only acts in a sub pro tem vacancy, the permanent incumbent being on deputation in the gaumman registration department. It seems therefore to be sufficient if he is temporarily exempted and asked to pass the examination in the usual course.

The Clerk had only two chances and two more may be given before the question of permanent exemption is considered.
