Did Mr Stuart register his name as an intending applicant for leave, or in any other way make known his intentions?

14/7

Mr. Stuart did not register his name as an intending applicant for leave but this is not required by the rules - nor did he make known his intentions in any other way. It is open to Govt to refuse the leave if they think it cannot be granted.

Of course. But notice will be communicated.

14/7/3

Leave may be granted. But the question of Mr Stuart's 15/7 succession will arise. (Commit Govt as to leave?)

15/7

H.M. & Circ

15.7.03

Does Mr Stuart intend to return?

Because if that is so,
the matter of his successor
is of considerable moment.
He is packed as I gather for over 99 during the 5 years ended in 1902.

K
1903

No information regarding Mr. Stuart's intentions is available. He will not attain the age of 55 until the 29. August 1907 and he has only completed 21 years' service; he cannot therefore retire otherwise than on medical grounds & on a pension of $\frac{21}{60}$ instead of $\frac{30}{60}$. He is not well off - & it is therefore very unlikely that he will not return. If considered desirable, he will be asked regarding his intentions, but I think it is hardly necessary.

With reference to your D.O. of the 18th inst about my leave will you please ascertain for me when Government is likely to be able to grant the leave? If it has to be postponed for any length of time I shall have to consider whether it is worth my while to take it this year.

I presume I shall be consulted about the arrangements to be made in consequence. I shall probably be in Ootacamund at the end of the month when this conference is over.

Yours sincerely

My dear Stuart,

Your D.O. of the 21st regarding your leave. H.E. the Governor went off on tour this morning, and I can't therefore find out definitely when your leave is likely to be granted without some delay — though I will do what is possible. I gather from your letter that you had not - up to 21st - received any reference from the P.S. That should have reached you before then. If you would let me know what is the latest date within which leave would be acceptable this year, it might help to clear up the position. But why didn't you write in a couple of months earlier and give warning of your intention to apply?

Yours Sincerely,
(Sd) A.G. Cardew.
