I have the honour to be,

Your most obedient servant,

G. H. Stuart

Director of Public Instruction.

Technical School, Horncastle, Lincs.,
November 14th, 1901.

Dear Sir,

I return your testimonials as to "Jersey Jet." It is quite unnecessary that you should send me a second trial tin. I intend to give the boards another coat in the Christmas holidays.

The boards have now been in daily use over 2 months, and are working very nicely.

I quite admit it is the best Blackboard renovator I have met with.

G. W. PARLETT, Esq.

CHAS. H. STEVENS.

St. Godric's School, Durham (City),

March 3rd, 1902.

Dear Sir,

I wrote very shortly after receiving the samples, saying that we had tried it upon a very old glossy Black Board with satisfactory results. As you had sent two sample tins, I forwarded one to St. Mary's Schools, Newcastle-on-Tyne, recommending its use to the Sisters there.

When I used it I mixed as much of the powder as made a liquid like thin glue, and it answered well. The only old Board we had is now in daily use, and I can assure you that when anything of the sort is required, your Jersey Jet shall have the preference. I shall be only too glad to recommend it to others.

Again thanking you for the samples.

SR. M. THERESA.

Albert Street Board School, Bridgwater,

March 13th, 1902.

Dear Sir,

I have thoroughly tested your "Jersey Jet" and have found it highly satisfactory. We shall certainly use it in future in all departments, and I shall have much pleasure in strongly recommending it to fellow-teachers.

MR. PARLETT.

Dear Sir,

We have had considerable trouble with our boards, and have tried many Compositions. These have proved almost, if not quite, failures, as the surface soon became glossy.

We had them coated by men who make this work a speciality, but with no better results.

So far (it) your "Jersey Jet" is absolutely non-reflecting, and being easy to mix, can be used by the veriest amateur.

Perhaps the best recommendation I can give you is to state that every board in school is to be coated with it, as required.

JOSEPH BARDSLEY.

I received the sample of "Jersey Jet" and we are so well satisfied with the same that we have ordered six tins.

R. S. CAHILL, F.C.S.,

Headmaster.

Higher Grade School of Science, Heckmondwike.

I have tried the sample of "Jersey Jet" upon a large black board and my assistant expresses himself delighted with the result, which I can freely endorse.

(Signed) C. H. WHITWORTH.

Science and Art and Technical Schools, Newcastle.

I tried your Composition on a large blackboard in our Lecture Room, and found it produced an excellent surface to write on.

(Signed) J. W. WILSON, M.I.M.E.

Crystal Palace Engineering Schools.

I have found the "Jersey Jet" to be more than is claimed in your circular, and I shall recommend it on every possible occasion.

THOMAS BOTT.

Upper Highgate Street School, Birmingham School Board.

I have tried it on an old board, and have now a blackboard equal to new.

J. C. WITTON, B.A., B.Sc.

Grammar School, Andover.

I much prefer it to any other composition I have ever used.

C. DAVEY, M.A., B.Sc.

Oxenford House School, Jersey.

I tried your "Jersey Jet," and got one of my assistants to try it also. We both came to the conclusion that it was an excellent composition. The surface was such that every child in the class could see the writing.

G. S. CLARKE,

Bath Street Board School.

Headmaster.

The best I have ever used, giving an excellent dead black surface.

F. WHISTLER,

St. Paul's Boys' School, Jersey.

Headmaster.

I tried the "Jersey Jet" on two different blackboards, one much worn and very rough, the other with a very shiny surface, which would not take the chalk at all. . . . Both boards were used within two hours after the "Jet" was applied, and were a pleasure to write on. The black surface did not rub off, neither did the chalk have the whitening effect on the boards.

H. CHILDS,

St. Martin's Northern Boys' School, Long Acre.

Headmaster.
