Madras, 2nd September, 1903.

The Assistant Adjutant General,

Madras District.

Sir,

I beg respectfully to submit the following for your favourable consideration and submission to the Local Government through the proper channel with your kind recommendation.

I passed the Matriculation Examination of the Madras University in the year 1886, and was entertained the same year in the District Staff Office Madras District as a clerk on Rs:20 per mensem.

At the time of my entertainment there was every hope that juniors might eventually receive promotion to the Managership - the highest paid appointment in this office for natives.

After passing through several grades in the office, I was promoted to Rs:60/- which amount of salary I am at present drawing.

Before I had attained the object in view the Soldier Clerks Scheme was brought into force, the introduction of which has frustrated all hopes of further advancement.

In order to better my position by going up elsewhere, I now find it expedient to pass certain special tests, which would qualify me for higher appointments in the office of any Civil Department.

Some years ago Matriculates were allowed to appear for certain special test examinations and this is not now permissible without special sanction. Once before I prepared myself for one of the tests "Judicial", but unfortunately was prevented from appearing at the examination owing to illness.

Subsequently the Government of India in the Military Department

Department ruled that no Government Examination was necessary either to entertain any individual in the clerical line or promotion to any grade in all the Military Offices, excepting the Departmental Examination which is still in force.

Had this ruling not been passed I would not have given up the idea of passing the necessary examination for promotion to higher appointments but continued my attempts till successful.

As the examination Rules now in force do not permit Matriculates to appear for the Judicial Test, which I am still anxious to pass, I very respectfully beg you will be graciously pleased to obtain from the Local Government, as a special case, sanction to my appearing for that test till I have passed the examination, or at least for a period of 3 years commencing from the beginning of the year 1904, so that in case of my failure in the first year I may continue appearing every subsequent year till 1906.

I beg to remain,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Mirza Jafar Hussain

Clerk,

District Staff Office, Madras District.

To The Deputy Adjutant General
Madras Command.

Forwarded.

2.- Owing to the introduction of the Scheme for the employment of Military Staff Clerks to the two Senior appointments, there is no chance for promotion in this office. The applicant has given great satisfaction in the discharge of his duties. I am of opinion that his case deserves favourable consideration and accordingly recommend the same in view to the requisite sanction of the Local Government being obtained as a very special case.
