My dear Middlemast,

In reply to your D.O. of today, an order authorizing you to sign bills pending appointment of a new Director is about to be issued.

As regards last paragraph of your note, what you are doing seems right, but why not give your own views when Stuart's are not on record?

Yours sincerely

My dear Cardew

in order to be able to sign bills pending the appointment of a new Director it is a duty to be done The regular bill for the month of Oct. 1903 is now due and I am sure you will not mind my signing it for you.

Office of the Director of Public Instruction, Madras.

My dear Cardew,

Pending the appointment of a new Director, do you think that I might be empowered to sign & countersign bills where the D's signature is required. There are a lot of such bills pending, such as travelling allowance bills, etc, and the gardeners' pay bills for last month were not signed.
Though ~~the~~ Stuart managed to sign the office establishment bills.
None of the bills involve any great sums, as all building etc are hung up on account of the deed of agreement to be prescribed not having been approved yet by Govt.

I am carrying on the routine of the office as well as I can, and am sending on to Govt urgent papers, with remarks in Cases where Stuart has left notes or where his views are known to me, & without remarks in other Cases. I hope this is right.

Yours sincerely

Edw. M. Middlemarch

There is no objection to Mr. Middlemast being authorized to sign & countersign bills. In 1901 when Mr. Stuart went to Simla the A.G. reported that if Govt. authorized Mr. Scott to pass bills his office would not object and a G.O. was accordingly passed - No 513 dt 11-9-01. A similar G.O. may perhaps be now passed pending the appointment of a successor to Mr. Stuart.

I think a G.O. like No 513-11-9-01, in favour of the Dy Director may be issued at once.
Please put up. The last sentence (redundant) will not be necessary.
