Resident at Hyderabad,

Dated Hyderabad Residency, the 4th November 1903.

SIR,

With reference to your letter No. 488, dated the 6th October 1903, regarding the proposal to constitute Hyderabad a centre for the examination in Typewriting, I have the honour to state that His Highness the Nizam's Government have no concern in the examination and cannot therefore be held responsible for expenses connected with it.

2. The examination is to be held in the limits of the Resident's jurisdiction and as the fees paid by the candidates are to be credited to the Government of Madras, it seems equitable that all the local expenses should be borne by that Government.

3. I have the honour therefore to enquire whether the Government of Madras is prepared to defray the cost. Otherwise the proposal to hold the examination at Hyderabad

Sir,

In returning the paper received —

In ~~letter no~~ 487-88 Educational, dated 6th October 1903, the Honble the Resident at Hyderabad was informed that necessary arrangements had been made for holding the written examination in type-writing at ~~Hyderabad~~ Hyderabad and his attention was ~~invited~~ invited to article 8 of the notification regulating the technical examinations, in which the condition is laid down that in such circumstances a native darbar should, besides arranging for proper supervision, bear all the local expenses connected with the examination. ^(Honour) In his letter of the 7th ult. he pointed out that the Nizam's Government had no concern in the examination in question and enquired whether this Government was prepared to defray the cost. If ~~not~~ not, he ~~was~~ requested that the proposal ^{might} be dropped. The C.F.R. to whom this ~~ref~~ letter was referred for remarks states that in the circumstances now explained the expenses of the examination will be borne by the Commission for Govt. Examinations. It is submitted that the Commissioner's proposal may be approved and the Resident informed accordingly. A draft is placed below for approval.

There is absolute

no reason that I can see why we should hold exams in Hyderabad. The Nizam's Admt. does not want it, & the Resident makes no application

The Resident in his letter No 3076 dated 16th June 1903, printed on p. 2 of G.O. No. 487488. D.O. dated 6 Oct 03 requested that Hyderabad might be made a centre for the Examⁿ, & in the G.O. cited, the Commr. of Govt Examⁿ was ordered to make it a centre. The question now is as to who should pay, & as the Madras Govt will get the fees, it seems reasonable that we should bear the cost. That, at least, is what ^{in the Court} Sir David Barr says & perhaps it may be accepted.

I don't see why we sh^d. go so far afield as Hyderabad. And I don't very much whether it w^d be practicable to get such sup^{ce} as we sh^d. consider satisfactory or then I sh^d. like further info of the proposal is she go on with. But first I sh^d. like to know why we sh^d. go for the special benefit of the Hyderabadis split up the examⁿ. - The Rt. admitted (from Rt. D. 25 Aug 1903) that he could manage the written portion of the examⁿ and then Mr Stuart casually intimated that if any portion of the examⁿ be arranged locally the candidates concerned "may undergo the practical portion of the test at the nearest centre where it is conducted". He did not explain within what time the practical portion might be taken up; & is there any authority for splitting up the test?

Rule 8 is laying down that if an examⁿ is held in a Native State, the local expenses sh^d. be borne by the State was I think prudent, the Dyest being presumably ~~content~~ ^{to} relieve the Commr. from the responsibility connected with local expense at a distant centre by agencies over wh. he has no effective control. This is the rule & I see no sufficient reason to depart from it.

G. F.
8/12/03

The two points raised by H.M. esp. the second - need to be carefully examined. By 9.12.03

It is submitted that on the first point we have only the Resident's assurance that proper arrangements can be made for the conduct and superintendence of the written test. He has not furnished any detailed information regarding these arrangements.

The papers are however sent from Madras and all that a Superintendent has to see is that Candidates typewrite the passages sent, in a given time. The examination is now held in all centres where there are not less than 20 candidates for all technical subjects put together. Please see paragraph 2 of the Commr's notification on page 5 of Part I. B of the Fort St George Gazette of 13th January 1903. The instructions to Superintendents of examinations under the control of the C.E.G. will be found at page 118 of the Calendar.

2. As regards the second point with H.M. note is submitted that there will be no splitting up specially for the benefit of the Hyderabad candidates. The examination is everywhere held separately. Only those who pass the written test are admitted to the practical test. The latter test is conducted by one of the examiners. If a proper examiner capable of conducting the practical test cannot be found in Hyderabad the candidates have to go to the nearest centre where there is one or to which place the Commr. can send one. The practical test is held as soon as possible after the results of the written test are known.

I see no reason to make any exception to our rule as to the payment of local expenses in the case of Hyderabad; & as the Resident suggests, in that case, the proposal may be dropped.
