Medical College.

Declining to recommend to the Government of India the proposal to grant an honorarium to the Assistant to the Professor of Hygiene, —, for giving instruction in Bacteriology to the Sanitary Inspectors' class.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper :—

From the Hon'ble Mr. A. G. BOURNE, D.Sc., F.R.S., Director of Public Instruction, Madras, to the Secretary to Government, Educational Department (through the Accountant-General), dated 21st July 1904, Ref. on Cur. No. 3449.

I have the honour to address Government on the subject of the remuneration payable to the Assistant to the Professor of Hygiene, Medical College, for making demonstrations on bacteriology to the Sanitary Inspectors' class according to the revised curriculum. In paragraph 9 (c) of his letter, No. 1722-S., dated 27th October 1900, embodied in G.O., No. 467 L., dated 14th March 1901, Lieutenant-Colonel King proposed that a special allowance of Rs. 200 should be paid to the Assistant Professor of Hygiene for this work. The revised rules prescribing the qualifications for Sanitary and Assistant Sanitary Inspectors were finally approved by Government in their order No. 1131 L., dated 11th September 1903, but no orders have been passed on the subject of remuneration.

2. The Professor of Hygiene, Medical College, who has now raised the question states that the course on bacteriology to the Sanitary Inspector students consisted of twelve meetings of two hours each excluding the time spent in preparation for the demonstrations and he recommends that an honorarium of Rs. 300 be given to the Assistant Professor for the work. The Principal, Medical College, supports the recommendation that a special allowance should be given for the course of instruction in bacteriology and I beg to submit the claim for the orders of Government.

3. No provision for the charge exists in the current year's budget estimate of the College, but it can be met from savings under salaries. The necessary reappropriation statement is submitted in duplicate.

Submitted to Government.

2. As in G.O., No. 98, Educational, dated 4th March 1903, the pay of the Assistant Professor of Hygiene, Medical College, has been fixed at Rs. 200—20—300 a month, the proposal to grant any honorarium to the incumbent of that office requires the sanction of the Government of India under the provisions of article 72 (b) note and 76 (1) of Civil Service Regulations.

3. Having regard, however, to the fact that it has been ordered in G.O., No. 450, Educational, dated 17th September 1903, that the Assistant to the Professor of Physiology should get no honorarium for delivering a course of lectures in Physiology to the Sanitary Inspectors' class, I would submit that it is for the consideration of Government whether the circumstances attendant on the performance of the duty for which remuneration is now proposed are not also of similar character and if so, whether any remuneration is necessary.

4. The proposed reappropriation requires the sanction of Government in the Financial department.

W. DOBBIE,
Accountant-General.

To the Secretary to Government, Educational department.

ORDER—No. 522, Educational, dated 22nd August 1904.

His Excellency the Governor in Council is not prepared to recommend the grant of the honorarium applied for. The course of lectures referred to must be considered a part of the Assistant's regular duties.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTES CONNECTED WITH G.O., No. 522, EDUCATIONAL, DATED 22ND AUGUST 1904.

[SUBJECT.—Honorarium to the Assistant to the Professor of Hygiene, Medical College, for giving instruction in Bacteriology to the Sanitary Inspectors' class.]

From the Director of Public Instruction, No. 3449, dated 21st July 1904.

When the Sanitary Inspectors' class was formed in the Medical College instruction was given only in Hygiene—G.O., No. 914 M., dated 10th December 1894.

Elements of Physiology were afterwards added—G.O., No. 787, Educational, dated 19th December 1898.

And now Bacteriological demonstrations [and Minor Sanitary Engineering] have been added—G.O., No. 1131 L., dated 11th September 1903.

2. For lectures in Hygiene the Professor of Hygiene in the Medical College was paid an honorarium of Rs. 700 per annum and for lectures in Physiology the Assistant to the Professor of Physiology was given an honorarium of Rs. 200 per annum. With the reorganization of the staff of the Medical College both these honoraria were stopped—G.Os., No. 718, Educational, dated 21st November 1902, and No. 450, Educational, dated 17th September 1903.

3. The Professor of Hygiene now recommends an honorarium of Rs. 300 to his Assistant for Bacteriological demonstrations, and the Director submits the claim for orders. It is submitted that the claim may be disallowed and the draft placed below issued. Please see also the Accountant-General's endorsement on the Director's letter. The assistant concerned is Dr. Chandrasekhar. He is not a subordinate of the Medical department: he is solely under Educational. His original pay was Rs. 100—10—150; it was then raised to Rs. 100—10—200 and subsequently to Rs. 200—20—300—G.O., No. 98, Educational, dated 4th March 1903.

4. For lectures in Minor Sanitary Engineering the Assistant Sanitary Engineer will get an honorarium of Rs. 500 a year—Letter No. 814 L., dated 11th July 1904, but the duties connected with the lectures are outside his own duties and department.

P. T. THARYAN—19-8-04.

A. GALLETTI—19-8-04.

There seem to be no sufficient grounds for any special allowance. The course of lectures must be considered as part of the ordinary duties of the Assistant Professor of Hygiene.

H. D. TAYLOR—20-8-04.

I quite agree.
