Reformatory Schools.

Communicating to the Director of Public Instruction letter from the Government of India forwarding, for information, copy of correspondence with the Government of Bengal regarding the inclusion of statistics relating to — in the general tables appended to the Public Instruction Report.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following papers:—

From R. NATHAN, Esq., C.I.E., Deputy Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Education Department, dated Simla, the 16th July 1904, No. 607-8.

It has been brought to the notice of the Government of India that statistics for reformatory schools have not been included in the general tables appended to the Bengal Report on Public Instruction for the year 1902-1903.

2. I am to request that statistics relating to such schools may in future years be included in the tables. A separate entry for "reformatory schools" should be inserted in tables III, IV and VII immediately above the entry "other schools" under the heading "school education, special".

From A. EARLE, Esq., I.C.S., Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department, to the Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department, dated Darjeeling, the 24th September 1904, No. 1622-T.G.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of Mr. Nathan's letter No. 607, dated the 16th July 1904, in which the Government of India request that statistics relating to reformatory schools may in future years be included in the general tables appended to the Bengal Report on Public Instruction, and suggest that a separate entry for "reformatory schools" should be inserted in tables III, IV and VII immediately above the entry "other schools" under the heading "school education, special".

2. In reply, I am to enclose, for the information of the Government of India, the accompanying copy of a letter from the Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, No. 10300, dated the 20th August 1904, in paragraph 2 of which he explains why statistics for reformatory schools were not separately shown in the tables appended to his report for 1902-1903. It will be observed from this letter that statistics for the reformatory schools at Alipore and Hazaribagh are already included in the figures given for "other schools" in the general tables appended to the annual Report on Public Instruction in Bengal. A separate entry for reformatory schools will now be made in tables III and IV as directed by the Government of India.

3. The insertion of a similar entry in general table VII does not appear to be necessary, because that table shows the expenditure incurred by district boards and municipalities on different classes of institutions, whereas reformatory schools in this province receive no aid from local bodies. I am to request that this Government may be favoured with the orders of the Government of India on this point, and also on a suggestion which has been made by the Director in his letter cited above, that an entry similar to that suggested in respect of tables III and IV should be inserted in general table III-A, which shows the number of schools in different classes of institutions classified according to sex, race or creed.

ENCLOSURE.

From A. PEDLER, Esq., Director of Public Instruction, Bengal, to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department, dated Calcutta, the 20th August 1904, No. 10300.

With reference to your endorsement No. 2610, dated the 30th July 1904, enclosing copy of the Home Department (Education) No. 607, dated the 16th idem, in which it is stated "that statistics for reformatory schools have not been included in the general tables appended to the Bengal Report on Public Instruction for the year 1902-1903," I have the honour to state that the statistics of the reformatory schools at Alipore and Hazaribagh are actually included in the general tables that are really concerned, in the figures for "other schools", though not under a separate entry for "reformatory schools" as is now suggested.

2. General tables III and IV, appended to my annual report for 1900-1901, contained a separate entry "reformatory schools," but it was omitted from the tables appended to the annual report for 1902-1903, with a view to adopt the forms of the tables, prescribed under the Home Department orders No. 561, dated the 8th July 1902, which had no separate entry for "reformatory schools."

3. Further, the Home Department orders (referred to above) require that statistics of reformatory schools should be shown under a separate entry also in general table VII. In this connection, I have to point out that the reformatory schools in Bengal receive no aid from local or municipal boards. So I do not think it necessary to insert a new entry—"Reformatory schools"—in this table also. Probably general table VII in the letter is a clerical error for general table III-A.

4. In conclusion, I have to state that a separate entry for "reformatory schools" has already been inserted immediately above the entry "other schools" under the heading "school education, special" in each of the general tables III, III-A and IV, which are to be appended to my annual report for the year 1903-1904.

From W. S. MARRIS, Esq., Officiating Deputy Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department (Education), to the Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General (Education) Department, dated Simla, the 3rd November 1904, No. 910.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of Mr. Earle's letter No. 1622-T.G., dated the 24th September 1904, regarding the inclusion of statistics relating to reformatory schools in the general tables appended to the Bengal Education report.

2. In paragraph 3 of your letter it is represented that the insertion of a separate entry for reformatory schools in general table VII is unnecessary as reformatory schools in Bengal receive no aid from local bodies. I am to say that it has been customary to include the same list of special schools both in tables III and VII. As, however, there are no reformatory schools in Bengal under municipal management such schools need not be shown in the latter table.

3. The Government of India approve of the suggestion made by the Director of Public Instruction that an entry similar to that suggested in respect of tables III and IV should be inserted in general table III-A.
