NEW BATHOLOMEW STREET,
BIRMINGHAM, August 6th, 1900.

GENTLEMEN,

Mr. L. Griffith tells me that he is applying for the post of Resident Engineer of the Sewage Works under your Council. He has been with us for about a year, being engaged on Electric Meter work. His engagement here was avowedly in the nature of an experiment, as the work is greatly different in character from that on which he was formerly employed, and to which I gather he is now anxious to return.

Of his personal character, both as regards morals and manners, I can speak most highly. He is also intelligent and very punctual and attentive in business. I believe others will speak as to his fitness for your special work, which, of course, I cannot. But, this being given, I am confident you will find him an efficient officer, as well as very pleasant to work with. He has my best wishes in his present application.

I am, etc.,
(Signed) GEORGE HOOKHAM.

ENGINEERING LABORATORY,
UNIVERSITY COLLEGE,
GOWER STREET,
LONDON, W.C., 7th June 1900.

I have much pleasure in stating that Mr. C. L. T. Griffith was a student in this College and went through a complete two years' course in Civil and Civil and Mechanical Engineering.

He was a very hard working, able and intelligent student and distinguished himself in all his class work; this was shown by the honours and successes he obtained in the class examination. He is an expert draughtsman with a sound knowledge of design, and has had good training in the principles of general Engineering and Surveying.

The good work he has done since he left College is a proof that he is no mere prize winner, but a thoroughly sound young engineer with a first rate knowledge of the theory of his profession, and able to apply the theory in an intelligent and able way to the every day problems with which an engineer meets.

M. INST. M.E.,
Professor of Mechanical Engineering.

2, GREAT GEORGE STREET,
WESTMINSTER, S.W., June 6th, 1900.

This is to certify that Mr. C. L. T. Griffith was engaged by us as an Assistant Engineer for about 2½ years on the Port Talbot Railway and the Donegal Railway extension from Strabane to Londonderry.

During the time Mr. Griffith was with us he did his work to our entire satisfaction, and only left for a better appointment.

Griffith was engaged in this department from August to November 1900 on the preparation of parliamentary plans and sections for tramways in the County of London and that he carried out the duties entrusted to him to the entire satisfaction of the officers under whom he worked.
