EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTES CONNECTED WITH G.O., No. 127, EDUCATIONAL, DATED
6TH MARCH 1905.

[SUBJECT.—Exemption from the Examination rules.]

From the Inspector-General of Police, dated 20th February 1905, No. 733.

The exemptions of P. Ramanarasinga Rao and T. Ramachandra Rao Nayudu were sanctioned up to 31st December 1904 in G.O., No. 537, Educational, dated 31st August, and G.O., R. No. 463, Educational, dated 22nd September 1904, respectively. It was then stated that no further exemptions would be granted.

2. Now the Inspector-General applies for the exemption of the former up to 31st March 1905 and of the latter up to 12th January 1905. It is also stated that the services of the latter were dispensed with on the 12th January last. Orders are solicited.

K.K.M.—22-2-05.

P. T. THARYAN—22-2-05.

A. GALLETTI—23-2-05.

For orders as to the general principles to be followed in these cases. So long as unqualified clerks are allowed to monopolise appointments and to set up vested interests in the appointments concerned, the cry of "wolf" in regard to the dearth of passed candidates will always arise. I consider that when the employment of an unpassed man in an acting appointment has continued for two years, he should not be reappointed, except in special localities, without a break of at least one year. If this principle is enforced officers will take more trouble to obtain passed men who may hold the post permanently. No doubt it may cause inconvenience to turn out an unpassed man who is au fait with the work of the office, and to replace him by another unpassed man, but in the long run this system will tend to get rid of the unpassed man altogether. Otherwise the application for sanction is a mere farce, and the power of according sanction might be vested in the head of the department concerned.

H. D. TAYLOR—24-2-05.

I agree in general. For the present cases as sanction is 1st January to 31st March and 1st to 12th January of 1905 not much harm (or good) is done by agreeing to the request. But couple with it the declarations that there will be no more extensions to these men.

J. T[HOHSON]—25-2-05.

Draft please and note the above general principles for dealing with these applications. A general circular (confidential) to heads of departments may be desirable.

H. D. TAYLOR—26-2-05.

The draft placed below is submitted for approval. If approved Judicial may be asked to accept it. In the case of T. Ramachandra Nayudu no further extension will be necessary as his post has been abolished.

2. After issue the general confidential circular ordered by the Secretary will be drafted.
