(True Extract.)

H. D. Taylor,
Ag. Secretary to Government.

To the Director of Public Instruction.

Letter—to the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for India, dated 5th July 1905, No. 6, Educational.

In confirming the marginally-noted telegram of the 9th ultimo we have the honour to state that the appointment of Professor of Civil Engineering at the College of Engineering, Madras, has again fallen vacant owing to the appointment of Mr. C. L. T. Griffith (who was appointed by you to be a temporary member of the Indian Educational Service and to hold the appointment of Professor of Civil Engineering at the Madras College of Engineering in your Despatch No. 11, Public, dated 23rd December 1904) as Engineer to the Madras Corporation. Mr. Griffith was the only suitable candidate who was available for the latter post, and his immediate appointment thereto was rendered necessary owing to the urgent needs of the City of Madras which appeared to us to be more pressing than those of the Engineering College.

Telegram to the Secretary of State for India.

"Can you arrange to send out as early as possible for temporary employment for one year with somewhat indefinite prospect of further employment a fully qualified man similar to Griffith as Professor of Engineering, Civil, Madras College of Engineering."

2. It is to fill up this vacancy, which will last till the special duty of Mr. Chatterton, the permanent incumbent, terminates in June 1906, that we applied to you in our telegram of the 9th ultimo to send out a qualified person. We telegraphed at the same time to other Local Governments enquiring whether it would be possible for them to spare us a man temporarily, but have received replies in the negative. The Engineering College re-opened on the 4th instant. It would accordingly be advisable that any person whom you may be able to send us, should sail at a very early date.

3. We have recently proposed * the creation of a post of Director of Technical Education in this Presidency to which post, if sanctioned, we wish to appoint Mr. Chatterton. The person selected to act temporarily for Mr. Chatterton as Professor of Civil Engineering would then, if found suitable, have every prospect of securing the Professorship permanently, if vacated by Mr. Chatterton.

Perhaps it may be said in the despatch that this Government have proposed to the Government of India that Mr. Chatterton should be made Director of Technical Education, a new post proposed to be created, and that consequently the person to be appointed temporarily has every prospect of getting Mr. Chatterton's billet. Knowing this would make all the difference to persons applying, the India Office need not communicate the information if they think it better not to.

Telegram to the Secretary of State for India.

"Can you arrange to send out as early as possible for temporary employment for one year with somewhat indefinite prospect of further employment a fully qualified man similar to Griffith as Professor of Engineering, Civil, Madras College of Engineering."

Sir,

In confirming the marginally noted telegram of the 9th instant we have the honour to state that the appointment of Professor of Civil Engineering at the College of Engineering, Madras, has again fallen vacant owing to the appointment of Mr. C.L.T. Griffith, (who was appointed by you to be a temporary member of the Indian Educational Service and to hold the appointment of Professor of Civil Engineering at the Madras College of Engineering in your Despatch No.11, Public, dated 23rd December 1904), as Engineer to the Madras Corporation. Mr. Griffith was the only suitable candidate who was available for the College post, and his immediate appointment thereto was rendered necessary owing to the urgent needs of the City of Madras which appeared to us to be more pressing than those of the Engineering College.

2. It is to fill up this vacancy, which will last till the Special duty of Mr. Chatterton, the permanent incumbent, terminates in June 1906, that we applied to you in our telegram of the 9th instant to send out a qualified person. We telegraphed at the same time to other Local Governments enquiring whether it would be possible for them to spare us a man temporarily, but have received replies in the negative. The Engineering College re-opens on the 4th July next. It would accordingly be advisable that any person whom you may be able to send us, should sail at a very early date.

Proceedings enclosed.

3. We have recently proposed the creation of a post of Director of Technical Education in this Presidency to which post, if sanctioned, we wish to appoint Mr. Chatterton. The person selected to act temporarily for Mr. Chatterton as Professor of Civil Engineering would then, if found suitable, have every prospect of securing the Professorship permanently, if vacated by Mr Chatterton
