Despatch—from the Right Hon'ble St. John Brodrick, His Majesty's Secretary of State for India.

To—His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor in Council, Fort St. George.

Dated—India Office, London, the 27th October 1905.

No.—6, Public.

With reference to the despatch of your Excellency's Government, No. 8, Educational, dated the 26th July last, I forward for your information a copy of a letter from the Board of Education, dated 10th October, with enclosure, in regard to the facilities for the study of the textile industry which would be open to Mr. G. N. Dewal in England.

ENCLOSURE.

Letter—from F. OGILVIE, Esq., Secretary, Board of Education, London.
To—the Under Secretary of State for India.
Dated—the 10th October 1905.
No.—T. 13033.

Adverting to Sir Horace Walpole's letter of the 22nd August last, I am directed by the Board of Education to state for the information of the Secretary of State for India in Council that in their opinion it is not desirable that Mr. G. N. Dewal should be sent to Germany to study handloom technique and silk-weaving. He would not be received in any of the Weaving Technical schools of Germany, and it is very doubtful if he would be permitted to inspect the works of manufacturers in such a way as to be of advantage to him.

With reference to the possibility of the studies in Manchester which he wishes being available for him, the Board felt that it was somewhat doubtful whether, with the limited general education which he has had, he would be able to enter properly into the course of instruction provided in the Municipal School of Technology, Manchester. In this respect his case is very different from that of the three other students from India who, in accordance with previous correspondence between this Board and the India Office, are now at work in the Weaving school in Manchester; these had received in India a satisfactory preliminary general and scientific education.

In the circumstances the Board have consulted, with reference to Mr. Dewal, the Principal of the Municipal School of Technology in Manchester, who is of opinion that, on the presumption that Mr. Dewal is a man of business and capable of applying the knowledge and opportunities of experience he will gain, he could acquire in a two years' course at Manchester a sound knowledge of various types of handlooms for dealing with silk, cotton and other fibres and of the means to be employed to secure the best preparation of warps for handlooms. Whatever training or instruction may be necessary for him in respect of engineering subjects related to weaving practice will be available in the Manchester school; it is, however, necessary that he should commence his studies there on the opening of the session in September.

The Board note that Mr. Dewal's knowledge of English is not perfect, although he reads and writes the language, and I am to suggest that he should devote the interval between March, when it appears he can be free from his present employment, and August, when it would be necessary that he should leave India so as to enter upon the work in Manchester in September, to improving his knowledge of English and, if necessary, his familiarity with arithmetical and simple algebraical calculations of a practical kind.

Order—No. 818, Educational, dated 13th December 1905.

In their order, No. 418, Educational, dated 20th June 1905, the Government declined to recommend Mr. G. N. Dewal, weaving master in the Coimbatore Jail, for a technical scholarship tenable abroad by natives of India. Since the date of the order, however, Mr. Dewal has renewed his application and has asked for assistance to enable him to proceed to Manchester to study machinery adapted to reeling, sizing and warping warps for counts above "20" and to Germany to study handloom technique generally and silk-weaving. The Government had some doubt as to the probability of a person of his age and qualifications and position being able to obtain the kind of training required in Europe and considered it advisable to make a reference to the Secretary of State on the subject.

2. They are now informed that Mr. Dewal would not be received in any Technical school in Germany in which weaving is taught and that it is very doubtful if he would be permitted to inspect the works of manufacturers in that country in such a way as to be of advantage to him; but that he might be able to acquire at Manchester a sound knowledge of various types of handlooms for dealing with silk, cotton and other fibres and of the means to be employed to secure the best preparation of warps for handlooms. Whatever training or instruction might be necessary for Mr. Dewal in respect of engineering subjects related to weaving practice would be available in the Manchester Municipal School of Technology, but as it is necessary that he should commence his studies there on the opening of a session it would not be advisable for him to arrive in Manchester before the opening of the next session in September 1906. It is considered that Mr. Dewal would be able to acquire all necessary information in two years.

3. As Mr. Dewal's knowledge of English is not perfect, it is suggested that he should as far as possible devote the interval to improving his English and to acquiring familiarity with arithmetical and algebraical calculations of a practical kind.

4. His Excellency in Council is prepared to recommend Mr. Dewal to the Government of India for a scholarship of £ 150 a year tenable for two years at Manchester from September 1906. The Inspector-General of Prisons is requested to ascertain from Mr. Dewal whether in the circumstances stated he still wishes his application to be transmitted to the Government of India.

For orders as to whether the substance of the Secretary of State's decision may now be communicated to Mr. Dewal through the Inspector-General of Prisons.

2. Under the concluding sentence of paragraph 4 of the despatch from the Government of India to the Secretary of State on page 3 of G.O., No. 504, Educational, dated 9th October 1903, India will now have to be addressed, recommending Mr. Dewal to a State Technical scholarship. For orders as to whether this may now be done.

N.L.R.—24-11-05.

The Government have now decided that scholarships should be given for the study of Chrome tanning and of Industrial Chemistry. The file with draft is now in circulation.

P. T. THARYAN—27-11-05.

A. GALLETTI—27-11-05.

I do not think that it is the intention to restrict the award of scholarships absolutely to the two subjects mentioned. It was merely intended to indicate industries in respect of which applications would receive special consideration. In the present case we referred to the Secretary of State ourselves.

2. The next session of the Manchester school of Technology commences in September 1906, and Mr. Dewal would have to leave India early in August if it is decided to award him a scholarship.

H. D. TAYLOR—28-11-05.

No objection whatever if the man is ready to take that study. If he is, he should be told of his defects and how he should attempt to remedy them.

G. S. F[ORBES]—29-11-05.

I agree.
