Exemption from the Examination Rules.

Sanctioning the exemption from the draftsman's test of A. Tiruvengada Mudali, draftsman, attached to the Land Records Tahsildar's office, Nellore.

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper:—

Letter—from R. MORRIS, Esq., I.C.S., Collector of Nellore.
To—the Secretary to Government, Educational Department.
Dated—the 15th December 1905.
No.—Ref. 3616-Gl./Ver.

The establishment attached to the office of the Land Records Tahsildar, Nellore, having been made permanent, I propose to confirm the draftsman of the office, A. Tiruvengada Mudali, provided that the Government are pleased to exempt him permanently from the draftsman's test prescribed under the Public Service Notification printed at page 567 of the Fort St. George Gazette, dated 26th September 1905.

2. This draftsman was working in the Survey Department on the temporary establishment from January 1899 prior to his joining the present appointment which he joined on the 20th August 1903, and is reported by the Land Records Tahsildar to be a hard-working, trustworthy and useful public servant well conversant with the duties required of him.

3. I have the honour to request that, in these circumstances, the Government will be pleased to exempt A. Tiruvengada Mudali permanently from the draftsman's test.

Order—No. 51, Educational, dated 29th January 1906.

A. Tiruvengada Mudali is permanently exempted from the draftsman's test, as a special case.

H. D. TAYLOR,
Ag. Secretary to Government.

To the Collector of Nellore.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

NOTES CONNECTED WITH G.O., No. 51, EDUCATIONAL, DATED 29TH JANUARY 1906.

[SUBJECT.—Exemption from Draftsman's test.]

From the Collector of Nellore, dated 15*th December* 1905, No. 3616.

The Collector of Nellore recommends the permanent exemption, from the draftsman's test, of A. Tiruvengada Mudali, now a temporary draftsman of the office of the Land Records Tahsildar, Nellore.

2. The grounds for exemption are stated in paragraph 2 of the Collector's letter.

3. For orders as to whether they may be considered sufficient for the permanent exemption of the man.

K.K.M.—23-12-05.

Under article 2 (item 6 of column A of the table) of the Public Service notification Tiruvengada Mudali should possess a draftsman's certificate of the College of Engineering; but it is unnecessary for him to pass the Upper Secondary or other General Education test. He has apparently passed no general education test. For orders whether he may be exempted from the draftsman's test.

2. There is no information in the office regarding his pay.

P. T. THARYAN—23-12-05.

The man has been a draftsman since 1899. He can't be of much use if in six years he has been unable to pass the tests.

C. A. SOUTER—25-12-05.

I would decline to grant the exemption. It has been distinctly laid down that long temporary service of unpassed men who are found to be "useful" will not give them any special claim to permanent exemption.

H. D. TAYLOR—26-12-05.

To the Revenue Department.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

Put up the orders prescribing the test for draftsmen in the Survey department. Have they to undergo a course at the Engineering College ?

F. B. EVANS—30-12-05.

The test was proposed as a qualification for draftsmen in 1893 by the then Director of Public Instruction when the issue of the Public Service notification in its present form was under contemplation—vide paragraph 11 of the Director of Public Instruction's letter and the test noted against Draftsman on pages 4 and 12 respectively of G.O., No. 818, Educational, dated 8th November 1893. The test was, however, restricted to men on the permanent establishment of the department with reference to paragraph 2 of Survey Superintendent's letter No. 161-G., dated 7th December 1893, on page 31 of G.O., No. 67, Educational, dated 2nd February 1894. The course of study prescribed for the draftsmen class in the Engineering College does seem to require that the draftsmen should undergo a training in the College for two years at the end of which they shall have to pass the examinations.

C.D.—4-1-06.

A test of this sort must apparently be passed before a man enters Government service. He can hardly expect to be able to go in for a two years' course afterwards.

It is, therefore, hardly a case of having "failed to pass" the test in six years; and approved service should to some extent weigh in favour of exemption.

F. B. Evans—5-1-06.

I agree. The position seems to be that Government does not require temporary draftsmen to pass the test, and therefore so long as establishment is classed as temporary, a man may be a draftsman for twenty years without possessing the test qualification. But if, as here, establishment is (through some cause or other) made permanent, he can't be confirmed.

2. Wouldn't it be better now to extend the test qualification to temporary draftsmen in future entering the service, and leaving all men now in service free from it?

3. If the test qualification is needed, it is as necessary for a temporary draftsman as for a permanent one.

A. G. Cardew—6-1-06.

To the Educational Department.

Educational Department.

Complete this file please by adding the recent Government orders regarding exemptions.

H. D. Taylor—8-1-06.

The following Government orders are submitted :—

(1) G.O., No. 130, Educational, dated 6th March 1905, making certain alterations in the Public Service notification in connection with the powers delegated to the Board of Revenue of granting temporary exemptions to unpassed candidates.

(2) G.O., No. 345, Educational, dated 22nd May 1905, regarding temporary appointment of unpassed candidates by Deputy and Assistant Commissioners of the Salt, Abkári and Customs department.

(3) G.O., No. 570, Educational, dated 18th August 1905, extending the powers of temporary exemption exercised by heads of departments in regard to the employment of unpassed men in the public service.

(4) G.O., No. 612, Educational, dated 12th September 1905, regarding the publication of the revised Public Service and the Special Test notifications as finally approved in the Fort St. George Gazette.

(5) G.O., No. 694, Educational, dated 28th October 1905, authorising the Director of Public Instruction to grant temporary exemptions from certain professional qualifications.

N. L.—9-1-06.

Submitted that under the Public Service notification as it now stands a man may be a draftsman in the Survey department ever so long if he is on the temporary establishment; but, if he has to be transferred to the permanent establishment, he has to qualify. This seems to be different from the temporary establishment in which the man may be serving being made permanent. In the former case the grounds for exemption are personal and in the latter they are public.

Not necessarily. If a post is made permanent or pensionable, a qualified man may be forthcoming for the extra advantages.

H. D. Taylor.

2. It is also submitted that Tiruvengada Mudali on whose behalf application for exemption is now submitted is not now in the Survey department. If he could not obtain a draftsman's certificate of the College of Engineering, it was sufficient if he had obtained a draftsman's group certificate in mechanical drawing under the notification regulating the Government Technical Examinations—item 5, column A of the table in article 2 of the Public Service notification. For this, entry into the College of Engineering would not be necessary.

3. If Revenue desires that the test qualification should be extended to draftsmen in the temporary establishment, the Public Service notification will have to be altered; but the decision has to be arrived at in Revenue—the administrative department concerned. We have already provided for the transfer of field surveyors and of deputy surveyors from the temporary to the permanent establishment—G.O., No. 39, Revenue, dated 8th January 1902, in G.O., No. 43, Educational, dated 30th idem.

P. T. Tharyan—10-1-06.

C. A. Souter—11-1-06.

Exemption may, with the concurrence of Revenue, be granted in the present specific case.

2. The general question of making the test compulsory for temporary surveyor can be taken up separately. A revised draft of the Public Service notification is going round again to Departments and the question can be referred to then.

H. D. Taylor—12-1-06.

The draft placed below is submitted for approval and issue with the concurrence of the Revenue Department.

K.K.M.—12-1-06.

P. T. Tharyan—12-1-06.

C. A. Souter—14-1-06.

To the Revenue Department.

Revenue Department.

It seems that article 2 (item 6 of column A of the Public Service notification) referred to in Educational office-note on page 1 does not apply to this case. Has any provision been made in the Public Service notification for the "Land Records Staff", which is, I think, technically part of the ordinary Revenue establishment?

F. B. Evans—16-1-06.

No provision has been made in the Public Service notification regarding the new "Land Records Staff". As the Public Service notification is going to be revised shortly, the necessary additions may be made when it is about to issue. The qualifications required for each officer may then be considered.

2. Land Records department forms or is intended to form part of the ordinary Revenue establishment in the district. Rule 6 makes provision for candidates for the post of draftsman and surveyor in all departments "except the Madras Survey Department" and it, therefore, seems to cover the present case.
