Sec.

This applicant is the youth Parsons with whom you had an interview. He also came to see me in Madrid & I told him what was required of candidates. His present request is merely for information, & I submit that the answer suggested seems insufficient.

He may be told that if he undertakes the course of study which he thinks of undertaking, he will improve his chances, but that no candidate who has not ~~passed~~ taken his degree will be considered.

Mr. Parnon does not possess any ~~academic~~ degree; and it is proposed to limit the grant of scholarships to those who have taken the B.A. degree. It would therefore be somewhat hard on Mr Parnon to encourage him to undergo a practical course in tanning or in chemistry, if he is certain to be rejected on the ground that he does not possess the prescribed degree.

Is tanning taught at the school of Arts? Mr Chatterton is conducting experiments in chrome tanning on the school of Arts premises - but tanning forms no part of the curriculum of the School of Arts, and it is not known whether pupils are taught tanning, or whether the work of tanning as at present conducted is purely experimental and limited to chrome tanning. Will Revenue please say.

are in the linked file -

It is to be seen, from p. 546. Es. d. 10 ago - amongst the paper, that students are taught the processes employed by Chatterton in his chrome tanning - The process are not in the experimental stage - his time has been confined to the chrome tanning process, since the whole spirit of the "school" is to push chrome tanning.

No tanning is done at the School of arts except by the chrome tanning process. In that process Mr Chatterton allows students at a fee of Rs. 5 per mensure.

Practical knowledge of chrome tanning is quite sufficient I think, if that were all that is wanted?
 But the lad has no degree, & he or she told so.

The first para. of the draft prepared by the Registrar is just that useless sort of collation of words, which marks the Order but is the derision of everybody except a school bag; & yet had often easy to pass ^{to deficiencies} ~~it~~ over in the hurry of the day's work. Thus Section 11 & the 10th are held up to scorn. Who on earth would understand what it meant. If I were the applicant I certainly should not. What "general qualifications" are meant? Had a poor half-educated young lad to read? It is the duty of the drafter to expand a little & Mr. P's remarks so as to make the Order intelligible to the person with whom it is addressed.

Before I go on further with the draft I should like to know whether Parsons is a "native of India"? Can this be ascertained without asking the information of himself; to ask himself might raise unfounded hopes
