Proceedings of the Director of Public Instruction, Dis. No. 3648, dated 28*th May* 1906.

Read—the following paper:—

Letter—from M.R.Ry. Rao Bahadur M. Rangacharya, M.A., Curator, Government Oriental Manuscripts Library.
To—the Director of Public Instruction.
Dated—the 30th April 1906.
No.—C. 88.

I have the honour to submit the report on the working of the Government Oriental Manuscripts Library during 1905–1906.

2. Staff.—During the year there was no change in the personnel of the staff. D. S. Satakopachari, the acting clerk, was confirmed in the post he had been holding sub. pro tem. To enable me to carry out the wishes of Government in the matter of printing the Descriptive Catalogue of Sanskrit Manuscripts, a temporary proof-reader's appointment was sanctioned; and C. V. Venkatarama Ganapati was appointed as proof-reader on the 19th June last.

3. Contingent expenses.—Of the sum of Rs. 2,192 provided for in the budget for contingent and travelling expenses, a sum of Rs. 235 was used in accordance with G.O., No. 388, Educational, dated 7th June 1905, to meet the charge consequent on the employment of the temporary proof-reader on Rs. 25 per mensem. This accounts for the decrease in the total amount expended over the acquisition of manuscripts, printed books, etc. A large number of rare and useful manuscripts have been transcribed from originals belonging to the collections of manuscripts examined by me in my tour in Cochin. This necessitated increased expenditure under transcription and has proportionately reduced the charge under purchase of manuscripts. The sum of Rs. 192 provided for minor contingencies was found insufficient to meet the increased binding charges and the daily growing preservation charges. The sum of Rs. 200 shown against preparation of manuscripts for the press, has been utilized in connection with the printing of the Gaṇitasārasangraha with English translation and the revision of the slips prepared in connection with the descriptive catalogue of the Tamil manuscripts in the library. The increased travelling allowance provided for has been for the first time availed of by me, in connection with my tour in Cochin in search of rare and valuable manuscripts to be purchased or transcribed for the library.

4. Visitors and manuscripts consulted.—The popularity of the library has been maintained during the year under report. The small decrease in the number of visitors is more than made up for by the increase in the number of works consulted, as also in the number of works copied. As much as 36,000 granthas of manuscript matter were supplied during the year under report to European and Indian scholars. They have all had to be copied under the responsible superintendence of the staff of the library. Moreover many of the manuscripts thus transcribed have had to be compared with other manuscript copies of the works to be found in the library. The expenses of copying and comparing were as usual paid by those for whom the work was done. The addition to the library of many printed works of reference has been attracting students studying for the M.A. Degree examination. The contents of the library have also been used by more than one connected with the work of preparing and bringing out the Gazetteer and the District Manuals.

5. Tours for the collection of manuscripts.—During the last summer vacation, I went on a tour for collecting manuscripts to Cochin and Malabar, accompanied by a pandit and a peon of the library. We visited two mutts and a number of other private libraries. Fourteen collections of manuscripts were altogether examined at Trichoor, Chowerah, Vellarapalli, Edappalli, Kaladi, Tiruppanatura, Cochin, Chiraturatti, Alwaye, Kundoor and Parur. The number of manuscripts examined came up to 1,350. As many as 176 valuable manuscripts were received on loan for transcription, and eight manuscripts were given to the library as presents. As the owners of manuscripts in this part of the country were unwilling to part with them, I was not able to purchase any collection for the library. Of the 176 manuscripts taken on loan for transcription about 100 remain to be transcribed. P. Varadachari who proceeded to Vizagapatam to produce certain records in the library before the District Court there, took the opportunity to examine the library of the late Venkatarangacharya, Mahamahopadhyaya, and the new additions made by his grandson Pandit S. P. V. Ranganathaswami to that library, and arranged there for the copying of some important works for the library. D. S. Satakopachari was sent to Tallam near Arkonam in search of an important work reported to be found in the houses of the pandits there. A larger number of tours might have been undertaken but for the necessity of having had to provide for the pay of the temporary proof-reader, and but for the pressure of other items of urgent work in the library. As usual, certain manuscripts were copied for the library at certain outside stations, such as Vizagapatam, Tirupati, Tallam, Sriperumbudur, Ikai, Mahabalipuram, Conjeeveram, Arasanipalai, Kalyanapuram, Chowerah, Parur, etc.

6. Manuscripts acquired.—The value of the works transcribed for the library from manuscripts obtained as loan during my tour in Cochin can be made out by a reference to appendix B. Seven collections of manuscripts were purchased, and five collections were received as presents during the year. Mr V. V. S. Avadhani, B.A., now District Munsif at Proddatur, and Mr. S. Kesavulu Nayudu, the grandson of the late S. Narasimhalu Nayudu, a learned sub-judge of former days, presented to the library collections of manuscripts and a few printed books containing some rare and valuable works. The total number of manuscripts added during the year is 424 as against 658 of last year; and the decrease is due to the smaller amount of funds used for purchase and transcription and to the generally greater expenditure involved in getting manuscripts copied than in purchasing them. The number of manuscripts copied was, however, 123 as against 86 of the previous year. Moreover, when manuscripts are purchased, the collections for sale being generally what they are, good, bad and indifferent works, in all conditions of preservation, come into our possession. Although these have a special value of their own, there is greater room for careful choice and greater freshness and fulness in connection with works that are added to the library through transcription; and considering the rarity and importance of the manuscripts collected, the year under report shows better results on the whole than many of the previous years in the matter of the acquisition of manuscripts.

7. Catalogues— (1) Catalogue of the manuscripts acquired during 1905–1906.—The 424 works acquired during the year have been carefully examined; and a catalogue giving information regarding these works and their rarity, importance and usefulness is given in appendix B of this report.

(2) Descriptive catalogue of the manuscripts acquired since 1899.—The appointment of a proof-reader in May last enabled the staff of the library to proceed with the descriptive catalogue of the collections made during 1899–1900, 1900–1901 and 1901–1902. In all, 476 works have been thus fully described; and as many slips giving their description and the needed extracts have been made ready for the Press. Of these 476 slips, 353 were found to be descriptive of works dealing with such subjects as have not yet been included in the printed parts of the descriptive catalogue of the Sanskrit manuscripts of this library. To economise the cost of printing, etc., and to save unnecessary cross references in the catalogues, I have arranged to insert them in their proper places among the unprinted slips of the Descriptive Catalogue now undergoing printing. Out of the remaining 123 slips, 43 relate to the Tamil works, and have been included in the collection of slips for the Tamil Descriptive Catalogue; and 80 slips relating to such Sanskrit works as have not been yet described in the already printed portions of the Descriptive Catalogue of the Sanskrit manuscripts of the library, await to be separately dealt with. These have been considered to be too small in number to be printed and issued as a supplemental volume to the Descriptive Catalogue; they have been retained so that they may be printed with other such slips when their number becomes sufficiently large. In the current year, it is proposed to prepare the descriptive slips relating to the manuscripts collected during the three years from 1902–1905; and when these are prepared and arranged, there might be material enough to issue a separate supplemental volume.

(3) Descriptive catalogue of the Sanskrit manuscripts of the library.—Agreeably to the wishes of the Government, 1,049 slips relating to as many works, from Nos. 1317 to 2,365 were carefully revised and printed during the year under report, these slips covering 697 pages in the printed catalogue, as against 1,034 slips covering 649 pages in the previous year. As anticipated in the last year's report, the third part of volume I has been published during the year, as also the second volume dealing with Vedalakṣaṇa and Kalpa. The third volume consisting of 560 slips, covering 337 pages, and treating of works on grammar, lexicography and prosody, will shortly be issued with the necessary table of contents and index, which are now in proof.

(4) Descriptive catalogue of the vernacular manuscripts of the library—Tamil manuscripts.—For carrying out the needed revision of the slips of the Tamil descriptive catalogue alluded to in my last report, the services of Mahamahopadhyaya V. Swminatha Aiyar, Tamil pandit of the Presidency College, were utilized. After verifying the details contained in the slips thus revised, by comparing them with the manuscripts to which they relate, they are to be printed; and 93 slips so dealt with have already been sent to the Press.

Telugu manuscripts.—From 1st February 1905 to 31st January 1906, 616 slips have been prepared relating to as many Telugu works; and since February 1906, 134 works have been examined and described.

8. Publication of works.—The printing of the text and translation of Gaṇitasārasaṅgraha reported to have been commenced at the close of the last year, has been steadily pushed on; and I am now able to report that, of the nine chapters of the work, five chapters of the text covering 64 pages of printed matter and nearly three chapters of the translation with notes, also covering 64 pages, have been already printed; and 25 pages of the text and 29 pages of the translation are in proofs. I hope to finish this work during the current year. Meanwhile Sarvasiddhāntasaṅgraha, a statement and review of certain systems of philosophy, by Śaṅkarācārya, the well-known South Indian propounder of the advaita philosophy, has been after much work spent on collecting, comparing and collating the manuscripts, sent to the Press for printing. It is intended to publish a translation of this work also in due course. A rare and hitherto unknown poem by the name of Padyacūḍāmani, by Buddhaghóṣa, which describes Buddha's life, is also being made ready for publication. On account of a small break in the last chapter of the work, it could not be sent to the Press at once, and I am awaiting the receipt of another copy of the work for which I have written. Two manuscripts of Kauṭalīya Arthasastra are now being examined and compared with a view to see if the work may be translated and published. A poem named Rāmacarita has been copied and compared with a view to its being published in the Kâvyamâla series in Bombay; and an elementary work on gender in Sanskrit, known as Liṅgānuśāsana, is also being compared. About 1,600 pages of transcribed matter have been thus dealt with in the year under report; and to ensure that all that matter is accurate, not less than a dozen manuscripts have had to be examined and compared.

9. Preservation of manuscripts.—Two hundred and five manuscripts as against 247 in the previous year were coated with naptha oil. The quantity of work done in this connection cannot be correctly judged by merely taking the number of manuscripts into consideration, as some of them are bigger and some smaller than others; and again as some of them require greater care in handling than others. Therefore the slight diminution in the number of manuscripts coated with naptha oil during the year under report does not mean that less work was done. The Tamil, Telugu, Marathi, Malayalam and Kanarese manuscripts were all dusted during the year under report. As a protection against white ants, the floor of the library room has been properly paved with Cuddapah slabs. The necessary precaution against fire has been taken by providing the library with a pump and a set of water-buckets.

10. Printed books.—As usual a list of printed books purchased as well as obtained as presents is added (appendix A). In all 75 works in Sanskrit, Tamil and Telugu were purchased at a cost of Rs. 364–14–0. There are among these many costly and useful works of reference.

11. Miscellaneous.—The proofs of Rev. Foulkes' romanized edition of Kalidasa's Vikramorvaśīya, from about the beginning of the third act to the end of the drama, were gone through and corrected, under orders from Goverment. A poem in Sanskrit was referred for examination and opinion by the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Governor of Madras; and it was accordingly examined and reported upon.

12. In conclusion I request to be permitted to state that my thanks are specially due to Mr. A. P. Subrahmanya Aiyar, B.A., Superintendent of Education, Cochin, for the very great help he rendered to me during my tour in Cochin for the collection of manuscripts for the library.

2. Good work was done during the year, both in the way of preserving the existing manuscripts and of adding to their number. It is noted with satisfaction that the number of visitors who came for the purpose of copying manuscripts increased, thus testifying to the better appreciation of the library by scholars. This seems to have been largely due to the facilities afforded by the descriptive catalogues. The preparation of these catalogues made fair progress during the year.

3. The Curator is requested to convey the thanks of the Director to the Superintendent of Education, Cochin, and to the other gentlemen who helped to extend the usefulness of the institution.

Dis. No. 3648.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, dated 28th May 1906.

Government Oriental Manuscripts Library.

Read the following letter from M.R.Ry. Rao Bahadur M. RANGACHARYA, M.A., Curator, Government Oriental Manuscripts Library, to the Director of Public Instruction, dated 30th April 1906, C. No. 88 :—

I have the honor to submit the report on the working of the Government Oriental Manuscripts Library during 1905–1906.

2. Staff.—During the year there was no change in the personnel of the staff. D. S. Satakopachari, the acting clerk, was confirmed in the post he had been holding sub. pro tem. To enable me to carry out the wishes of Government in the matter of printing the Descriptive Catalogue of Sanskrit Manuscripts, a temporary proof-reader's appointment was sanctioned; and C. V. Venkatarama Ghanapathi was appointed as proof-reader on the 19th June last.

3. Contingent expenses.—Of the sum of Rs. 2,192 provided for in the budget for contingent and travelling expenses, a sum of Rs. 235 was used in accordance with G.O., No. 388, Educational, dated 7th June 1905, to meet the charge consequent on the employment of the temporary proof-reader on Rs. 25 per mensem. This accounts for the decrease in the total amount expended over the acquisition of manuscripts, printed books, etc. A large number of rare and useful manuscripts have been transcribed from originals belonging to the collections of manuscripts examined by me in my tour in Cochin. This necessitated increased expenditure under transcription and has proportionately reduced the charge under purchase of manuscripts. The sum of Rs. 192 provided for minor contingencies was found insufficient to meet the increased binding charges and the daily growing preservation charges. The sum of Rs. 250 shown against preparation of manuscripts for the press, has been utilized in connection with the printing of the Ganitasārasangraha with English translation and the revision of the slips prepared in connection with the descriptive catalogue of the Tamil manuscripts in the library. The increased travelling allowance provided for has been for the first time availed of by me, in connection with my tour in Cochin in search of rare and valuable manuscripts to be purchased or transcribed for the library.

4. Visitors and manuscripts consulted.—The popularity of the library has been maintained during the year under report. The small decrease in the number of visitors is more than made up for by the increase in the number of works consulted, as also in the number of works copied. As much as 36,000 granthas of manuscript matter were supplied, during the year under report to European and Indian scholars. They have all had to be copied under the responsible superintendence of the staff of the library. Moreover many of the manuscripts thus transcribed have had to be compared with other manuscript copies of the works to be found in the library. The expenses of copying and comparing were as usual paid by those for whom the work was done. The addition to the library of many printed works of reference has been attracting students studying for the M.A. Degree examination. The contents of the library have also been used by more than one connected with the work of preparing and bringing out the Gazetteer and the District Manuals.

5. Tours for the collection of manuscripts.—During the last summer vacation, I went on a tour for collecting manuscripts to Cochin and Malabar, accompanied by a pandit and a peon of the library. We visited two mutts and a number of other private libraries. Fourteen collections of manuscripts were altogether examined at Trichoor, Chowerah, Vellarapalli, Edappalli, Kaladi, Tiruppanatura, Cochin, Chiraturatti, Alwaye, Kundoor and Parur. The number of manuscripts examined came up to 1,350. As many as 176 valuable manuscripts were received on loan for transcription, and eight manuscripts were given to the library as presents. As the owners of manuscripts in this part of the country were unwilling to part with them, I was not able to purchase any collection for the library. Of the 176 manuscripts taken on loan for transcription about 100 remain to be transcribed. P. Varadachari who proceeded to Vizagapatam to produce certain records in the library before the District Court there, took the opportunity to examine the library of the late Venkatarangacharya, Mahamahopadhyaya, and the new additions made by his grandson Pandit S. P. V. Ranganathaswami to that library, and arranged there for the copying of some important works for the library. D. S. Satakopachari was sent to Tallam near Arkonam in search of an important work reported to be found in the houses of the pandits there. A larger number of tours might have been undertaken but for the necessity of having had to provide for the pay of the temporary proof-reader, and but for the pressure of other items of urgent work in the library. As usual, certain manuscripts were copied for the library at certain outside stations, such as Vizagapatam, Tirupati, Tallam, Sriperumbudur, Ikai, Mahabalipuram, Conjeeveram, Arasanipalai, Kalyanapuram, Chowerah, Parur, etc.

6. Manuscripts acquired.—The value of the works transcribed for the library from manuscripts obtained as loan during my tour in Cochin can be made out by a reference to appendix B. Seven collections of manuscripts were purchased, and five collections were received as present during the year. Mr V. V. S. Avadhani, B.A., now District Munsif at Proddatur, and Mr. S. Kasavulu Naidu, the grandson of the late S. Narasimmalu Naidu, a learned sub-judge of former days, presented to the library collections of manuscripts and a few printed books containing some rare and valuable works. The total number of manuscripts, added during the year, is 424 as against 658 of last year; and the decrease is due to the smaller amount of funds used for purchase and transcription and to the generally greater expenditure involved in getting manuscripts copied than in purchasing them. The number of manuscripts copied was, however, 123 as against 86 of the previous year. Moreover, when manuscripts are purchased, the collections for sale being generally what they are, good, bad and indifferent works, in all conditions of preservation, come into our possession. Although these have a special value of their own, there is greater room for careful choice and greater freshness and fulness in connection with works that are added to the library through transcription; and considering the rarity and importance of the manuscripts collected, the year under report shows better results on the whole than many of the previous years in the matter of the acquisition of manuscripts.

7. Catalogues— (1) Catalogue of the manuscripts acquired during 1905–1906.—The 424 works acquired during the year have been carefully examined; and a catalogue giving information regarding these works and their rarity, importance and usefulness is given in appendix B of this report.

(2) Descriptive catalogue of the manuscripts acquired since 1899.—The appointment of a proof-reader in May last enabled the staff of the library to proceed with the descriptive catalogue of the collections made during 1899–1900, 1900–1901 and 1901–1902. In all, 476 works have been thus fully described; and as many slips giving their description and the needed extracts have been made ready for the Press. Of these 476 slips, 353 were found to be descriptive of works dealing with such subjects as have not yet been included in the printed parts of the descriptive catalogue of the Sanskrit manuscripts of this library. To economise the cost of printing, etc., and to save unnecessary cross references in the catalogues, I have arranged to insert them in their proper places among the unprinted slips of the Descriptive Catalogue now undergoing printing. Out of the remaining 123 slips, 43 relate to the Tamil works, and have been included in the collection of slips for the Tamil Descriptive Catalogue; and 80 slips relating to such Sanskrit works, as have not been yet described in the already printed portions of the Descriptive Catalogue of the Sanskrit manuscripts of the library, await to be separately dealt with. These have been considered to be too small in number to be printed and issued as a supplemental volume to the Descriptive Catalogue; they have been retained so that they may be printed with other such slips when their number becomes sufficiently large. In the current year, it is proposed to prepare the descriptive slips relating to the manuscripts collected during the three years from 1902–1905; and when these are prepared and arranged, there might be material enough to issue a separate supplemental volume.

(3) Descriptive catalogue of the Sanskrit manuscripts of the library.—Agreeably to the wishes of the Government, 1,049 slips relating to as many works, from Nos. 1317 to 2,365 were carefully revised and printed during the year under report, these slips covering 697 pages in the printed catalogue, as against 1,034 slips covering 649 pages in the previous year. As anticipated in the last year's report, the third part of volume I has been published during the year, as also the second volume dealing with Vedalakṣaṇa and Kalpa. The third volume consisting of 560 slips, covering 337 pages, and treating of works on grammar, lexicography and prosody, will shortly be issued with the necessary table of contents and index, which are now in proof.

(4) Descriptive catalogue of the vernacular manuscripts of the library—Tamil manuscripts.—For carrying out the needed revision of the slips of the Tamil descriptive catalogue alluded to in my last report, the services of Mahamahopadhyaya V. Swminatha Aiyar, Tamil pandit of the Presidency College, were utilized. After verifying the details contained in the slips thus revised, by comparing them with the manuscripts to which they relate, they are to be printed ; and 93 slips so dealt with have already been sent to the Press.

Telugu manuscripts.—From 1st February 1905 to 31st January 1906, 616 slips have been prepared relating to as many Telugu works ; and since February 1906, 134 works have been examined and described.

8. Publication of works.—The printing of the text and translation of Gaṇitasārasaṅgraha reported to have been commenced at the close of the last year, has been steadily pushed on ; and I am now able to report that, of the nine chapters of the work, five chapters of the text covering 64 pages of printed matter and nearly three chapters of the translation with notes, also covering 64 pages, have been already printed ; and 25 pages of the text and 29 pages of the translation are in proofs. I hope to finish this work during the current year. Meanwhile Sarvasiddhāntasaṅgraha, a statement and review of certain systems of philosophy, by Śaṅkarācārya, the well-known South Indian propounder of the advaita philosophy, has been after much work spent on collecting, comparing and collating the manuscripts, sent to the Press for printing. It is intended to publish a translation of this work also in due course. A rare and hitherto unknown poem by the name of Padyacūḍāmani, by Buddhaghóṣa, which describes Buddha's life, is also being made ready for publication. On account of a small break in the last chapter of the work, it could not be sent to the Press at once, and I am awaiting the receipt of another copy of the work for which I have written. Two manuscripts of Kautalīya Arthasastra are now being examined and compared with a view to see if the work may be translated and published. A poem named Rāmacarita has been copied and compared with a view to its being published in the Kâvyamâla series in Bombay ; and an elementary work on gender in Sanskrit, known as Liṅgānuśāsana, is also being compared. About 1,600 pages of transcribed matter have been thus dealt with in the year under report ; and to ensure that all that matter is accurate, not less than a dozen manuscripts have had to be examined and compared.

9. Preservation of manuscripts.—Two hundred and five manuscripts as against 247 in the previous year were coated with naptha oil. The quantity of work done in this connection cannot be correctly judged by merely taking the number of manuscripts into consideration, as some of them are bigger and some smaller than others ; and again as some of them require greater care in handling than others. Therefore the slight diminution in the number of manuscripts coated with naptha oil during the year under report does not mean that less work was done. The Tamil, Telugu, Marathi, Malayalam and Kanarese manuscripts were all dusted during the year under report. As a protection against white ants, the floor of the library room has been properly paved with Cuddapah slabs. The necessary precaution against fire has been taken by providing the library with a pump and a set of water-buckets.

10. Printed books.—As usual a list of printed books purchased as well as obtained as presents is added (appendix A). In all 75 works in Sanskrit, Tamil and Telugu were purchased at a cost of Rs. 364-14-0. There are among these many costly and useful works of reference.

11. Miscellaneous.—The proofs of Rev. Foulkes' romanized edition of Kalidasa's Vikramorvaśīya, from about the beginning of the third act to the end of the drama, were gone through and corrected, under orders from Goverment. A poem in Sanskrit was referred for examination and opinion by the Private Secretary to His Excellency the Governor of Madras ; and it was accordingly examined and reported upon.

12. In conclusion I request to be permitted to state that my thanks are specially due to Mr. A. P. Subrahmanya Aiyar, B.A., Superintendent of Education, Cochin, for the very great help he rendered to me during my tour in Cochin for the collection of manuscripts for the library.

Proceedings, Dis. No. 3648, dated 28th May 1906.

Recorded.

2. Good work was done during the year, both in the way of preserving the existing manuscripts and of adding to their number. It is noted with satisfaction that the number of visitors who came for the purpose of copying manuscripts increased, thus testifying to the better appreciation of the library by scholars. This seems to have been largely due to the facilities afforded by the descriptive catalogues. The preparation of these catalogues made fair progress during the year.

3. The Curator is requested to convey the thanks of the Director to the Superintendent of Education, Cochin, and to the other gentlemen who helped to extend the usefulness of the institution.
