Letter—from the Hon'ble Mr. T. T. LOGAN, B.A., Acting Director of Public Instruction, Madras.

To—the Secretary to Government, Educational Department (through the Accountant-General).

Dated—the 19th September 1906.

No.—Ref. on Cur. No. 6034.

I have the honour to request that you will be so good as to obtain the sanction of Government for the designation of the post of "Foreman Blacksmith," one of the new appointments sanctioned in G.Os., No. 383, Educational, dated 23rd June 1899, and No. 271, Financial, dated 5th March 1900, being altered into "Instrument Repairer" and for provision for the post being made in the budget estimates for 1907-1908.

2. The post of Foreman Blacksmith has, since it was created, remained vacant and it is not likely to be needed until the workshops of the college are developed and extended. The Principal of the College therefore recommends that the appointment be converted in the manner proposed above, as there is real need for an officer possessing a knowledge of the mechanism of surveying instruments. It will be his duty to issue them daily to survey parties and to receive them back and check their condition and, if necessary, repair them. At present the repairs are being done in the College Workshops at an annual cost of about Rs. 300. The receipt and issue of the instruments is now attended to by a peon as the assistant instructors are fully occupied with teaching work and cannot be spared for the purpose. It is also reported that, in addition to ordinary wear and tear, the instruments are frequently damaged by the students through carelessness and that, when so damaged, it is hardly possible under existing arrangements to fix upon the students who should be held responsible for the damage done. The book value of the surveying instruments in constant use being Rs. 35,000, it is considered very desirable that the existing unsatisfactory arrangement should cease and that some responsible person should be employed to look after them with effect from 1st March next.

The sanction for the appointment of "Foreman Blacksmith" attached to the College of Engineering having lapsed, sanction will now be accorded to the creation of a new appointment of "Instrument Repairer" on Rs. 30—3—45, with effect from 1st March 1907.

NOTES CONNECTED WITH G.O., No. 711, EDUCATIONAL, DATED 5TH NOVEMBER 1906.

[SUBJECT.—Requesting sanction to the creation of a post of " Instrument Repairer " in place of that of " Foreman Blacksmith " in the College of Engineering.]

From the Director of Public Instruction, dated 19th September 1906, No. 6034.

The proposals of Major Love for the reconstitution of the Workshop establishment of the Engineering College sanctioned in G.O., No. 383, Educational, dated 23rd June 1899, included the employment of a foreman blacksmith on Rs. 30—45. The Director of Public Instruction now reports that this post has not been filled up as yet and that it is not likely to be needed until the workshops of the College are developed and extended.

2. On the other hand, real need is said to be felt for an officer possessing a knowledge of the mechanism of surveying instruments whose duty it will be to issue these instruments daily to survey parties, to receive them back, check their condition and to repair them, if necessary. The instruments are now being repaired in the College Workshops at an annual cost of Rs. 300 nearly. The book value of the instruments in constant use is said to be Rs. 35,000. The issue and receipt of the instruments are now attended to by a peon. The Principal has written to the Director of Public Instruction saying that this unsatisfactory arrangement should cease, that such costly instruments must be kept in charge of some responsible person and that the Assistant Instructors are fully occupied with teaching work and cannot be spared for the work.

3. The Director therefore proposes that the designation of the post of " Foreman Blacksmith " sanctioned in G.O., No. 383, Educational, dated 23rd June 1899, may be changed into " Instrument Repairer " and provision made for the subordinate in the budget for 1907–1908, so that the appointment may be filled up and the man kept in charge of surveying instruments. The Accountant-general through whom the Director of Public Instruction has submitted his letter says that the sanction for the appointment itself which was created in G.O., R. No. 271, Financial, dated 5th March 1900 has lapsed and requires renewal under article 293, Civil Account Code.

P.R.—15-10-06.

It is for consideration whether the designation of the appointment may be altered into " Instrument Repairer" and the sanction revived with the concurrence of Financial.

P. T. THARYAN—15-10-06.

Submittted that Colonel Love's proposal may be approved. It seems absurd that so much valuable property should be left to a peon to look after.

Abstract

2. The post of Foreman blacksmith has, since it was created, remained vacant and it is not likely to be needed until the workshops of the College are developed and extended. The Principal of the College therefore recommends that the appointment be converted in the manner proposed above, as there is real need for an officer possessing a knowledge of the

At present the repairs are being done in the College workshops at an annual cost of about Rs 300/-. The receipt and issue of the instruments is now attended to by a peon as the assistant instructors are fully occupied with teaching work and cannot be spared for the purpose. It is also reported that, in addition to ordinary wear and tear, the instruments are frequently damaged by the students through carelessness and that, when so damaged, it is hardly possible under existing arrangements to fix upon the students who should be held responsible for the damage done. The book value of the surveying instruments in constant use being Rs 35,000/- it is considered very desirable that the existing unsatisfactory arrangement should cease and that some responsible person should be employed to look after them with effect from 1st March next.
