Sr,

I have the honour to submit that,
with the abolition of the Primary Examination Sanctioned in G.O. No 409, Educational, dated the 15th June 1906, the 31 Primary Examination Boards constituted under the Notification, relating to the Examination were abolished and the records, in their charge, transferred to my office. On receipt and arrangement of these records

records, it was discovered that the Chairmen of the Boards had not been able to finish the work they had to do in the two months — allowed them prior to the abolition of the Boards, and that much still remained to be done in connection with the issue of certificates and the correspondence relating thereto. About 1500 certificates have already been prepared and issued from my office, and as many as 900 applications are now awaiting disposal, while many more will certainly come in hereafter. This additional work interferes seriously — with the discharge of the more important and urgent current work relating to the Special Test and Technical Examinations, in regard to the latter of which there has been considerable expansion during the last ten years, as is shown by the figures given in the margin; and, as under the present arrangement, the work to be done in connection with the Primary Examination is likely to go on indefinitely, I propose to fix a limit of time for the entertainment of applications for certificates and to notify, accordingly, in the gazette that no certificates will be issued after the the 31st March 1907. This will, of course, necessitate a concentration into a few months of work that will otherwise go on for a very long time; but it is desirable that the work should be disposed of, as soon as possible, and as my office will not be able to cope with it, I have the honour to request that Government will be pleased to sanction for the purpose the appointment of a few temporary clerks at a cost not exceeding Rs 150 on the whole to be expended during the current official year. The sum of Rs 100 sanctioned in G.O. 133-R. Educational, dated 22nd May 1906, for Temporary Establishment has been exhausted, the greater part of it having been applied to the disposal of the additional Primary Examination work. I may add that this work practically amounts to what has, hitherto, been done by 31 clerks.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

your most obedient servant,

C. No. 1857 From the C. G. E. No. 287 dated 12-11-1906.

SUBJECT. Temporary establishment for the Office of the Commr. for Govt. Insur.

The Commr. for Govt. Examinations requests sanction for the appointment of a few temporary Clerks at a cost not exceeding Rs 150 ~~for~~<sup>in</sup> his office during the current year. This establishment is wanted for issuing about 900 certificates to candidates who have passed the ~~last~~<sup>late</sup> Primary examination and to attend to a number of applications that may be received hereafter for such certificates. The Commr. says that his office will not be able to cope with this work as the technical examinations have considerably expanded during the last ten years. But he ignores <sup>the fact</sup> that by the abolition of the Lower Secondary and Primary examinations - vide G.O. no. 443 Gdd dated 27th June 1905 and G.O. no. 409 Gdd dated 15th June 1905 - the work of his office has been considerably lightened. These were two of the biggest examinations which the Commr. <sup>conducting</sup> was ~~was~~ and the relief afforded to his office by their abolition must have been considerable. Moreover the Commr.'s office has already <sup>as stated</sup> prepared & issued 1500 certificates and the balance <sup>remaining (999) is not issuing</sup>. It is true that this work of issuing certificates to Primary examination candidates was not formerly done by the Commr.'s office but this additional work which at most will not take more than three weeks for a single clerk to do - a clerk can prepare 50 certificates a day and at that rate 900 certificates will take 18 days to prepare - is not beyond the power of the Office of the Commr. which consists of a manager, seven clerks, two copyists and a manager, and whose work has been considerably lightened of late. It may be noted that Primary examination certificates are all printed requiring only the names of the candidates and the subjects they took to be filled in before ready for issue - but the names of the applicants & their register number will have to be verified.

3. In view of these facts it is for consideration whether the temporary establishment asked for may be sanctioned.

Submitted that the strongest argument against the entertainment of the additional clerks asked for is the issue of 1500 certificates without such help except a trifling nature.

Secy. On the whole there does not seem to be much of a case for an extra establishment. In order 17/4/06

we may inform the C.G. & that Govt. see so sufficient reason to sanction the temporary establishment applied for.

Submitted that the estimate may be placed at 25 working days or 1 month - allowing 10 minutes for a certificate and 10 minutes for a certificate and 10 minutes for a certificate - 900 certificates will thus take  $\frac{900}{36} = 25$  days.

There is also the cancelled correspondence & minor applications are expected.
