G.O. &c., Nos. 414, 415, Educational, dated 14th June 1906.

ABSTRACT.—Permitting Mr. G. N. Dewal to execute a bond in his own name for Rs. 5,500 with two sureties for Rs. 1,000 each, requesting the Accountant-General to arrange for a second-class passage for Mr. Dewal from Bombay at a cost not exceeding Rs. 450, and informing the Government of India that Mr. Dewal proposes to leave for England about the end of July or the beginning of August 1906.

II

Letter—from K. B. WAGLE, Esq., Officiating Accountant-General, Madras,
To—the Secretary to Government, Educational Department.
Dated—the 12th December 1906.
No.—P.A. 701/10685.

Adverting to G.O., No. 414, Educational, dated 14th June 1906, I have the honour to state that arrangements were made to provide Mr. G. N. Dewal with a second-class passage from Bombay by a P. and O. steamer. The second-class fare by that line being Rs. 480, Mr. Dewal paid the excess of Rs. 30 over the amount sanctioned by Government in the above orders, viz., Rs. 450.

2. But in his letter of the 4th October 1906 (copy enclosed) Mr. Dewal contends that after deducting the commission of 5 per cent. due to Government from the P. and O. Company (vide Government of India Nos. 2092-2105-C, dated 29th May 1905) the net charge to Government is Rs. 456 only, and as Government have sanctioned a maximum of Rs. 450 for the passage, the actual excess over that sum, viz., Rs. 6 only should be borne by him. He thus claims refund of Rs. 24 out of Rs. 30 paid by him and thereby requires that the whole commission due on the fare paid both by Government and by himself should be refunded to him.

3. As it is not clear what the intention of Government was when Rs. 450 was sanctioned as the cost of passage, sanction of Government is solicited for the refund.

ENCLOSURE.

Letter—from Mr. G. N. DEWAL.
To—the Accountant-General, Madras.
Dated—Manchester, the 11th October 1906.

I beg to inform you that although the nominal value of second saloon, B class fare is Rupees 480, the Accountant-General, Bombay, will have to pay Rs. 456 only, if my information be correct that Government gets 5 per cent. discount. It is reasonable that I should be made to pay only what has been paid over and above Rs. 450 sanctioned by the Madras Government. I shall be obliged if you will kindly ask the Accountant-General, Bombay, to pay to my wife the balance out of Rs. 30 that you had asked me to pay to him.

With reference to his letter No. P.A. 701-10685, dated 12th December 1906, the Accountant-General is requested to be good enough to state the net cost to Government as advised by the Accountant-General, Bombay, of providing Mr. G. N. Dewal with a second-class passage from Bombay.

Adverting to Educational Department Memorandum No. 631, dated the 24th December 1906, I have the honour to state that the net cost to Government as advised by the Accountant-General, Bombay, of providing Mr. G. N. Dewal with a second-class passage is Rs. 426 as per details below:—

From the Accountant-General, dated 12th December 1906, No. P.A. 701/10685.

In G.O., No. 344, Educational, dated 14th May 1906, Mr. G. N. Dewal, weaving master in the Coimbatore Jail, was granted, with the sanction of the Government of India, a technical scholarship of the value of £150 a year, exclusive of fees and of his travelling expenses.

2. In G.O., No. 414, Educational, dated 14th June 1906, Mr. G. N. Dewal was permitted to embark from Bombay and the Accountant-General was requested to provide him with a second-class passage at a cost not exceeding Rs. 450.

3. The Accountant-General provided Mr. G. N. Dewal with a second-class passage by a Peninsular and Oriental steamer. The second-class fare by that line being Rs. 480, Mr. G. N. Dewal was made to pay Rs. 30, being the amount in excess of the sum of Rs. 450 sanctioned by Government.

4. Mr. Dewal contends that, although the nominal value of a second-class passage by a Peninsular and Oriental steamer is Rs. 480, the actual amount paid for a second-class passage for him was Rs. 456 only, deducting the commission of 5 per cent. allowed by the Company (vide Government of India letter printed with G.O., No. 424, Financial, dated 14th June 1905), and that therefore he should have been made to pay Rs. 6 only, that being the amount in excess of Rs. 450 sanctioned by Government. He therefore requests that Rs. 24 out of Rs. 30 paid by him may be refunded to him.

5. The Accountant-General now solicits the sanction of Government for the refund of Rs. 24 to Mr. Dewal, as it is not clear what the intention of Government was when Rs. 450 was sanctioned as the cost of the passage.

6. Under paragraph 6 of the Government of India letter printed with G.O., No. 695, Educational, dated 28th November 1901, a technical scholarship holder is to be provided with a second-class passage. But the decision as to the lines by which the passage should be taken is left to the local Governments; in making the selection, however, regard should be had to considerations of economy—vide paragraph 2 of the Military Department letter No. 695-C, communicated with the Finance and Commerce Department letter No. 3571-S.R., printed with G.O., No. 404, Financial, dated 23rd June 1904, and paragraph 3 of the letter from the Department of Commerce and Industry, Nos. 6754-6773-P.O., dated 28th November 1905, printed with G.O., No. 21, Financial, dated 2nd January 1906. It may also be noted that in G.O., No. 307, Educational, dated 17th May 1902, the Accountant-General was authorised to pay the Registrar of the Madras University a sum not exceeding Rs. 467-8-0 being the actual charges incurred by him in obtaining a passage for Ramalinga Reddi, a Government of India scholar.

T.K.—16-12-06.

Please see the notes, dated 11th June 1906, on pages 2 and 3 of the notes with G.O., Nos. 414-415, Educational, dated 14th June 1906. If Mr. Dewal had gone from Madras by a British India Steam Navigation steamer his passage would have cost Government only Rs. 420. If he had gone from Bombay by the Ellerman City line the cost to Government would have been the same, but Government thought they could go up to an actual figure of Rs. 450.

P. T. THARYAN—17-12-06.

I submit that the refund of Rs. 24 may be paid in any case, but the Government may, I think, refund the whole amount of Rs. 30. I suppose Rs. 450 was fixed on a rough calculation.

C. G. MACKAY—18-12-06.

Did we not receive a Government Order from India quite recently regarding refund of commission in such cases? It was understood that the passage would be taken by Government. If Government actually paid only Rs. 456, Mr. Dewal is entitled to a refund of Rs. 24. Did Government or did Mr. Dewal pay for the passage? The Accountant-General does not state what the net cost to Government was; he merely quotes what Mr. Dewal says it was.

[Memorandum No. 631, dated 24th December 1906.]

From the Accountant-General, dated 23rd January 1907, No. P.A. 807/18081.

The Accountant-General states that the net cost to Government as advised by the Accountant-General, Bombay, of providing Mr. G. N. Dewal with a second-class passage, is Rs. 426, as detailed below:—

Cost of second-class passage		Rs. 480
Deduct—
Amount paid by Mr. Dewal		30
5 per cent. commission on Rs. 480		24
		54
Net amount		426

2. As the passage was engaged on behalf of Government, the Peninsular and Oriental Company allowed a commission of 5 per cent. on the cost of the passage. The amount actually to be paid by Government was thus Rs. 454 including Rs. 30 paid by Mr. Dewal. The net amount paid by Government was thus only Rs. 426 or

Rs. 24 less than the amount of Rs. 450 fixed in paragraph 2 of G.O., No. 414, Educational, dated 14th June 1906. Mr. Dewal asks for the refund of Rs. 24, which is the difference between the maximum amount sanctioned for the passage and that actually paid by Government. Orders are solicited whether the refund asked for may be granted.
