I

G.O., No. 779, Educational, dated 27th November 1905.

ABSTRACT.—Ordering that graduates-in-law should pass in the Criminal Procedure Code before appointment to posts for which the Criminal Judicial test is prescribed, and requesting the Commissioner for Government Examinations to submit a draft of consequential alterations in the Public Service and Special Test Notifications.

II

Petition—from R. LAKSHMI NARASIMHAN, B.A., B.L., New Agraharam, Tiruppattūr (Salem district).

To—the Secretary to Government, Educational Department.

Dated—the 22nd February 1907.

I beg I may be informed whether the graduates-in-law that have passed the High Court Apprentices' examination in the Codes of Civil and Criminal Procedure—both written and viva voce—are also required to pass the examination in the Criminal Procedure Code as prescribed in G.O., No. 779, Educational, dated the 27th November 1905, to claim exemption from passing the Criminal Judicial test. You are, I suppose, aware that the Apprentices' examination is only open to those graduates-in-law that have served a tenure of apprenticeship in the High Court for not less than a year and that the minimum for a pass therein is 50 per cent. It being thus manifestly anomalous to require such again to undergo an examination in the Criminal Procedure Code, I beg to suggest that a Government Order may be issued exempting such graduates-in-law as have passed the High Court Apprentices' examination from passing the Criminal Procedure Code examination. I beg I may be favoured with a reply.

III

Letter—from the Hon'ble Mr. H. BRADLEY, C.S.I., I.C.S., Acting Chief Secretary.

To—the Honourable the Chief Justice.

Dated—the 8th March 1907.

No.—Ref. 1358-1, Judicial.

I am directed to forward for favour of remarks of the Honourable the Judges a copy of a petition dated the 22nd February 1907 from one R. Lakshmi Narasimhan of Tiruppattūr requesting that graduates-in-law who have passed the High Court Apprentices' examination may be exempted from passing the examination in the Criminal Procedure Code prescribed in G.O., No. 779, Educational, dated 27th November 1905. A copy of this order was forwarded to the Honourable the Judges with my letter Ref. No. 5412, dated 15th December 1905.

IV

Letter—from A. L. HANNAY, Esq., I.C.S., Registrar, High Court, Madras.

To—the Chief Secretary to Government.

Dated—the 21st March 1907.

No.—R.O.C. 643.

With reference to your letter No. 1358-1, Judicial, dated 8th March 1907, forwarding for remarks a copy of a petition requesting that graduates-in-law who have passed the High Court Apprentices' examination may be exempted from passing the examination in Criminal Procedure Code prescribed in G.O., No. 779, Educational, dated the 27th November 1905, I am directed to state that the Honourable the Judges are of opinion that such graduates may be exempted as requested.

Order—No. 203, Educational, dated 6th April 1907.

The Government agree with the Honourable the Judges of the High Court that graduates-in-law who have passed the High Court Apprentices' examination should be exempted from passing the examination in Criminal Procedure Code, prescribed in G.O., No. 779, Educational, dated 27th November 1905, before appointment to posts for which the Criminal Judicial test is prescribed.

2. The Commissioner for Government Examinations will be requested to submit a draft of the necessary alterations in the Public Service and Special Test notifications.

NOTES CONNECTED WITH G.O., No. 203, EDUCATIONAL,
DATED 6TH APRIL 1907.

[SUBJECT—Exemption of graduates-in-law who have passed the High Court Apprentices Examination from passing the examination in Criminal Procedure Code for the Criminal Judicial Test.]

From M.R.Ry. R. Lakshmi Narasimham, B.A., B.L., dated 22nd February 1907.

M.R.Ry. R. Lakshmi Narasimham, B.A., B.L., enquires whether graduates in-law who have passed the High Court Apprentices' examination in the Codes of Civil and Criminal Procedure—both written and vidâ voce—are also required to pass the examination in the Criminal Procedure Code as prescribed in G.O., No. 779, Educational, dated 27th November 1905, to claim exemption from passing the Criminal Judicial Test. He points out the anomaly in requiring graduates in-law who have passed the High Court Apprentices' examination to pass the examination in Criminal Procedure Code and suggests that a Government order may be issued for removing the anomaly.

2. Submitted that the views of the Judicial Department may be invited.

P.K.M.—1-3-07.

G.O., No. 779, Educational, dated 27th November 1905, says that graduates in-law should pass in the Criminal Procedure, but not in Medical Jurisprudence before appointment to posts for which the Criminal Judicial test is prescribed. The apprentice examination comprises the Codes of Civil and Criminal Procedure, and it seems to be unnecessary to insist upon graduates in-law, who have passed the High Court Apprentices' examination, qualifying themselves again by passing the Criminal Procedure Code of the Criminal Judicial Test.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

It seems necessary to exempt apprentices-at-law who pass the High Court examination from liability to undergo that prescribed in G.O., No. 779, Educational, dated 27th November 1905. No reference to the High Court appears necessary.

C. VENKATASUBBIAH—2-3-07.

It has recently been ordered that policemen must pass in procedure before confirmation. The main reason for this order seems to have been the special lines on which the policemen are trained in Vellore. For a Magistrate the Apprentices' examination would seem sufficient, but since it is an examination set by the High Court, the Judges may be asked to advise.
