Office of the Director of Public Instruction, Madras, Dated 10-8-1944.

From

Sir R.M.Statham M.A., C.I.E., I.E.S., Director of Public Instruction, Madras.

To

The Secretary to Government, Education and Public Health Department.

Subject: Madras Educational Rules - Rule 145 - Completion of Probationary Teachers' certificates - Abolition of the system:

UNDER Rule 145 of the Madras Educational Rules a Probationary Trained Teacher is required to put in 18 months of satisfactory work in a school recognised by the Madras Educational Department or other departments of Government before his certificate can be completed. A teacher whose certificate is not thus completed within a period of three years from the day following the last day of his appearing for the T.S.D.C. Examination ceases to enjoy the status of a certificated teacher until his certificate is completed.

2. Under the old scheme of studies for training schools this system of completion of certificates was found necessary to test the teaching and other abilities of a teacher as there was not much scope in the Training Schools for pupil teachers to acquire practical training. Now, with the introduction of the Revised Courses of studies for Training Schools which are a great improvement on previous ones, ample opportunities are given to each pupil teacher to handle classes in the model school attached to the Training Schools and the time prescribed for the teaching practice covers about a fifth of the total number of hours available in the two years. Under this scheme teaching practice begins even in the first year of the training course. Therefore, the need to require the Probationary Teachers' Certificate holders to put in a further period of 18 months of probation with a view to testing their ability even after the two year's training is not obvious.
Except in a few cases where teachers under local bodies or under Government lose their posts or have their probation extended, the procedure of verification and approval by subordinate officers has become a mere formality in the case of all other probationary teachers. In the case of teachers under Government or Local Body Schools, there is always the probationary period of service during which a teacher's work may be condemned by the Inspecting Officers and the teacher's services can be dispensed with by the authority concerned.

3. I have also consulted all the Inspecting Officers and most of them are of the opinion that this system of the completion of certificates after a probationary period of 18 months should be dispensed with.

4. Therefore I have the honour to recommend that the probationary period prescribed in Rule 145 Madras Educational Rules may be dispensed with and that a T.S.D.C. may be issued to the teachers right away on the successful completion of their training course as in the case of L.Ts.

5. Draft amendments to the Rules, wherever necessary, will be submitted for approval after orders are passed on this letter.

I thought the amendments proposed by the D.P.I. was substitute of improvement and have proposed alternative draft above. Also: the lower is: teachers' opportunity to gain a H.E. certificate without undergoing the course for the latter has expired with 1944, it is proposed to retain the relevant part of the rule, 138, for purposes of future refer. Draft is for abtl.
