SIR,

Subject: Admissibility of temporary increase on pension during reemployment in the Universities in Madras.

I am to invite a reference to G.O.197 dt.7.2.45 introducing the second subparagraph of ruling below Article 56 of the Civil service Regulations in the Madras pension code under which the universities in the Madras state are not to be treated as 'Local Funds'. It is presumed that these orders continue to be in force.

A pensioner reemployed in a Local fund is not entitled to the benefit of temporary increase in pension. If as per the Govt.'s ruling referred to above that the universities in this state are not Local Funds temporary increase would be admissible to a pensioner during reemployment in the university.

Employment of a retired Act Engr of the P.W.D. as University Engr.

Please see the Regr's letter in the cf. The Accountant General has stated that permission of Govt. is necessary in the case apparently as he considers that the University is administering a local fund for purposes of ^{Article} 520 of the G.S.R. Recently in connection with the Madras University the question was raised whether Universities constituted by law should be classified as "local funds". The Advocate General, Madras, held that Universities were not "local funds". The Advocate General of India took the view that Universities were "local funds".
The Govt. decided not to accept either view and it became necessary to come to a conclusion in a concrete case. A concrete case has now arisen of the Govt. agree with the Advocate General, Madras, no sanction is necessary in the present case. For orders. Legal may see: also Fin.

(As remarks were called for in this Dept.) Since his pay + pension will not exceed the pay last drawn, the question of reducing his pension does not arise. Legal.

LEGAL DEPARTMENT.

On a similar question based on section 7 of the Madras University Act the Advocate-General of Madras (Sir Alladi Krishnaswami Iyer) expressed the opinion that the expression "local fund" cannot be applied to autonomous bodies like the Universities. He also observed that the definition of local fund given in the Civil Service Regulations made it clear that the framers of the Regulations had in mind only bodies of whose ordinary administrative mechanism the Provincial Government is a part. The Advocate-General of India however expressed a different opinion and the matter was again referred to Sir Alladi Krishnaswami Iyer who adhered to his previous view. Personally I am in entire agreement with the view expressed by Sir Alladi Krishnaswami Iyer. The opinion given by him applies to the Annamalai University with equal force. If Sir Alladi's opinion is accepted (I do not see any reason why it should not) no sanction is necessary in the present case.
