Sir,
I find that the Advocates-General of all the other Provinces are using a die of the enclosed design. Previously, I was being supplied with D.O. letter papers bearing an embossed seal but it seems to have been discontinued for some time past on account of paper scarcity. I request that Government will be pleased to permit me to order privately a die of a similar type for my official use and allow me to meet the charges therefor from out of my contingent allotment. I expect the cost thereof may come to about Rs.25/-.

may be paid to 8/5/46

Dear Advocate General,

In the Calcutta High Court Chamber applications are moved without being listed. Attorneys have the right of preaudience over counsel, but the Advocate General has the right of preaudience over attorneys.

The Advocate General claims seniority over everybody else but beyond that he has no other privilege.

The Advocate General has not the right to have listed matters (suits or motions) taken out of turn to suit his convenience. Listed matters can only be taken out of turn by arrangement with Advocates appearing in the previous cases subject to consent of the court which is usually granted.

If the Advocate General happens to be engaged in crown cases in two different courts judges usually pass over one matter but I do not think the Advocate General is entitled to claim that as a matter of right.

I do not know what the convention is in England, but I find it difficult to believe that the court is bound to consult the convenience of the Advocate General causing inconvenience to Advocates engaged in other cases of the list.
+ that convenience in return action

Yours sincerely,

S. M. Bose
(S. M. Bose)

The Advocate General of Madras,
High Court,
Madras.
