HISTORY OF THE SCHOOL

The history of the school as at present constituted resolves itself into the histories of four different institutions, namely St. Mary's Church Charity School, the Madras Male and Female Orphan Asylums, the Waltair Orphan Asylum and the Gordon Orphan Refuge.

St. Mary's Church Charity School, which it is believed is the first educational institution to be founded by the Church of England in India, now the Church of India, Burma and Ceylon, was started in 1715 by the Reverend W. Stevenson, Chaplain of Fort St. George, for the board and education of British Anglo-Indian children. It was built on the island west of the Fort, and the Governor Thomas Pitt, grandfather of the Earl of Chatham, gave 5000 Pagodas towards its cost from the sale of the Jersey House. The school started with thirty children but the number subsequently increased to fifty. Through the care of the headmaster Mr. Hubbard it survived the two years from 1746 to 1748 when the Fort was in possession of the French. The Governing Body was St. Mary's Vestry: the Governor attended its meetings so that we find in the Minute books the names of eminent men such as Clive, Warren Hastings, Lawrence and Wellesley. (The school remained on its original site till 1871 when it was amalgamated with the Male and Female Orphan Asylums, which on the transference of the Military Male Asylum to Lovedale, moved to the site of that school at the Old Redoubt, Egmore.) The connection of the Civil Orphan Asylums with St. Mary's parish has been maintained ever since. The terms of the amalgamation state that the chaplain of St. Mary's should be the spiritual head of the combined institution, which he still is if the Principal is not ordained: that he should be a member of the Board of Directors: that he should pay Rs. 6754 annually out of the accumulated capital fund of St. Mary's Church, and that the boys of the school should form the choir, the cost of transport being met by the Commander-in-Chief. The Civil Orphan Asylums also, as part of the terms of the gift, took over from the Military Asylum fifteen boys who could not go to Octacamund.

The Male and Female Orphan Asylums were founded in 1807 and 1810 respectively through the influence of the Reverend Dr. Kerr of Black Town Chapel. The school was originally in North Black Town, and was supported by a number of subscribers who elected Directors from their number: they constituted the first Board of Directors of this school. The school was founded for children of European descent who were not eligible for admission to the Military Asylums. In 1815 and 1823 substantial buildings were erected, and the foundation stones were laid with Masonic observances. These stones are now placed in the girls' dining hall, and they bear the names of the first twenty Directors. Thus was started the connection of the school with the Freemasons. The Madras Masonic Institution still gives a substantial annual grant, and in 1940 the corner stone of the Junior House was laid with Masonic rites. (The Male and Female Asylums had considerable capital including a large bequest from Mr. Gericke a famous missionary, and from time to time received donations from the Woolley Fund, a fund given to Government for the education and maintenance of children of distressed Europeans.) In return for these grants the school undertook the support of an additional thirty six children, a number which was reduced in 1876 to thirty. Government also ruled in 1851 that two Directors should be appointed by them, and ever since the two Government Directors on the Board have been responsible to Government for the proper administration of the Woolley Fund money held by the school. By 1867 the number of children had increased to seventy five boys and sixty five girls and the Directors complained that the buildings in Black Town were totally inadequate. It was probably in response to this representation that Government conceived the idea of transferring the Military Male Asylum to Lovedale, there to be amalgamated with the Lawrence Asylum, Ootacamund, and handing over its site at the Old Redoubt Egmore to the Directors. The Old Redoubt, which was on the present site of Egmore Station, was built in 1711 as an outpost of Fort St. George but had been used as a school since 1782. The move to Egmore took place in 1872. The buildings at Black Town and a portion of the site of Egmore were sold, and after meeting the cost of certain alterations to buildings, the balance was invested. The school was at the same time amalgamated with St. Mary's Charity School, and hereafter the combined institutions adopted the present name, the Civil Orphan Asylums. In 1894 the Government closed the Waltair Orphan Asylum, and transferred its fifteen children to this school taking the endowment of Rs. 23,442, and paying the school Rs. 15 a month for each child.

The next important event in the history of the school was its move to the present site at Kilpauk in 1904. The Military Female Orphan Asylum had started in a house in Chintadripet presented by the Nawab of the Carnatic. In 1872 they purchased the Kilpauk site for Rs. 19,750. A house on the site had been known as Conway's House, and it is interesting that people in the neighbourhood still know the school as "Conway school". (In 1903 the South Indian Railway decided to rebuild and extend Egmore Station, and wanted to acquire the land on which the school stood. The Directors were proposing to purchase Church Park when the Government intervened, as they were considering the transfer of the Military Female Orphan Asylum to Lovedale. That transfer took place in the following year and the site, 380 grounds or approximately 21 acres, was handed over to the Directors of the Civil Orphan Asylums on condition that they admitted thirty girls who could not be sent to Lovedale, and that they maintained thirty extra girls in perpetuity. The Directors were able to do this by investing the sale proceeds of the Egmore site amounting to Rs. 2,03,328.)

The last addition was in 1928, that of the children belonging to Mrs. Gordon's Orphan Refuge. This institution was founded by Mrs. W.A. Morehead in 1860, and was intended for European and Anglo-Indian children who were not eligible for admission either to the Civil or Military Asylums. Mrs. Morehead raised sufficient funds to purchase a building in San Thome, and in 1872 Mrs. Gordon of St. Thomas Mount endowed the institution with Rs. 13,700 on condition that it was named after her. After Mrs. Morehead's death the Refuge was in charge of Mrs. Alice Firth until she died in 1928. The thirty girls in school were then transferred to the Civil Orphan Asylums, together with the funded capital, which after the sale of the buildings amounted to Rs. 52,400. The president and one other member of the Refuge Committee became members of the Board of Directors, and the two Gordon Orphan representatives now on the Board have the right to nominate twenty children in the school.

(The present school chapel was taken over from the Military Female Asylum: it was built in 1883 and dedicated to the Blessed Virgin Mary. Various additions and improvements, in most cases with the assistance of Government, have been made to the site since it was occupied in 1904. In 1915 the Principal's bungalow and the class room block were constructed at a cost of Rs. 46,910. They were blessed by the Bishop of Madras on March 4th, and opened by His Excellency Lord Pentland on the following day. In 1936 the nave of the chapel was extended, and a new vestry added at a cost of Rs. 7,900. This extension was dedicated on February 4th 1937. Two additional class rooms were added in 1938, and in 1940 the Junior House constructed at a cost of Rs. 64,723. The Corner Stone was laid with full Masonic rites in the presence of His Excellency the Governor and the Lady Marjorie Erskine on October 8th. The Domestic Science room was reconstructed during the same year. In 1944 the Government alienated to the Directors six acres of vacant land on the south side of the compound. This will provide the extra playing ground space which would be necessitated by the construction of another house which is now under consideration.)

REPORT OF THE EMERGENCY COMMITTEE

The year closed with a debit balance of Rs. 6328-10-5 compared with debit balance of Rs. 7249-2-4 on April 1st 1944. Certain adjustments have to be made, and a sum of Rs. 7164-5-0 representing interest on endowments due on March 15th was not received before the end of the financial year. If this be taken as a receipt the year's working showed a profit of Rs. 1247-13-10. For the second year in succession, however, we did not transfer the usual sum of Rs. 6000 to the Building Replacement and Extension Fund

The chief increases in our receipts have been Rs. 862 from rent, Rs. 3400-5-0 from fee income, Rs. 1438-9-6 from subscriptions and donations. The two former are clearly temporary factors, the first due to the occupation by Government of our buildings in Madras, and the second due to children's allowances payable for children who are sons or daughters of serving soldiers. The chief increase in expenditure is in respect of allowances paid to the staff, mainly dearness and separation. We are now spending over Rs. 8000 a year on this, and as we have again raised the rates to those recently sanctioned by Government there will be a further increase next year.

It is not possible accurately to calculate the receipts and expenditure which arise solely from the evacuation of the school at Coimbatore but we estimate that if the school had been in Madras for the past year, we should have incurred an extra expenditure of Rs. 3000 odd. We shall no doubt have to face expenditure on taking over our buildings at Madras which will not be covered by our agreement with Government.

The cost of foodstuffs and clothing has been relatively stable during the year. We made minor alterations in the diet resulting in a saving of about Rs. 2500 for the year, about 6% of the total expenditure. The number of free boarders maintained was 155, an increase of four on previous year.

The Committee, under instructions from the Board of Directors, have during the year issued an appeal for fresh subscribers, and a special appeal has been issued to Old Boys and Girls.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

I regret the last issue of the Annual Report reached subscribers so late, due to difficulties in getting an adequate supply of paper. We hope this Report will not share the same fate though there is bound to be some delay.

For the fourth year the Annual Report has to be written in Coimbatore. The cessation of hostilities in the West has increased rather than diminished the pressure on accommodation in this part of India. The Board of Directors at its meeting in March made another request that our buildings should be returned to us, but at the time of writing this no reply has been received. We also applied for sanction for the construction of two additional class rooms in Coimbatore owing to pressure on our accommodation: this has been refused by Government as our return to Madras was under consideration.

The four additional class rooms, and the quarters for four teachers to which reference was made in the last Report, were completed and taken into use in August. The Government met practically the entire cost, and we are grateful for this assistance. One result has been that more congenial hours of class work have become possible. The two schools now work simultaneously. For teaching purposes they have been amalgamated in Standard 11 and below. The revision of the time table involves the use of a verandah as a class room, but it remains to be seen whether this will be a possible arrangement during the windy season and the monsoon.

There were changes in the staff at the end of the year. Miss Harvey and Miss Jonas left; Miss Christopher joined on completion of her training course. We have welcomed back Mrs. Maynard who had been away for three years on duty with the W. A. C. (I). Miss Chinnery, a member of the staff of Stanes School, has been helping out with our teaching work. We are very glad to have Miss Joseph again with us: she returned in August after eight months sick leave, and since then has been kept more than busy with Standard 11 which has been overstrength throughout the year. Pressure on our accommodation remains as great as ever: in December we had over one hundred applications for admission, and we were only able to find room for twenty five. Evacuation to Coimbatore has aggravated the difficulty, accommodation in the dining hall in particular being very limited, but even if we were in Madras, we could only fulfil the demands made on us by additional buildings. We hope that Chaplains and others, whose requests for the admission of urgent cases have not infrequently been refused, will understand the situation in which we are placed.

For the Middle School examination we sent up the whole of Standard VII. Two passed in the first class, five in the second, and five in the third, whilst three failed. One of the first classes, Alison Wright, was second in the Presidency. Of those who passed, eight are continuing their course in Doveton Corrie School, one in St. Francis Convent, Coimbatore, and one in Bishop Cotton School Bangalore, for all of whom we have accepted financial responsibility, wholly or partly. Of those who appeared for the High School examination from Doveton Corrie, two passed in the second class and two failed.

Miss Cavanagh inspected us in August, and Miss Parke, for needlework and domestic science, in May. We understand that Miss Cavanagh is retiring at the end of this year. European schools in this Presidency owe a great deal to her energy and initiative. Her period of office has been one of unparalleled difficulty through evacuation, the rise in prices and a host of other problems arising from war conditions. She has had to deal with innumerable requests from the eighty odd schools for which she is responsible to Government: we have made not a few. Perhaps her work as Inspectress will be remembered mainly for the inauguration of the Annual Teachers' Conference, which unfortunately had to be abandoned this year owing to difficulties of transport, when as many as four hundred teachers have gathered together for two or three days. I shall not forget the way she handled the last conference in January 1944.

In games and sports our activities for the greater part of the year have been limited owing to class work continuing till 6-30 p.m. on four days in the week. This meant that the juniors and seniors could only get two free evenings each in the week. We entered for the Coimbatore District Sports, but only one boy succeeded in getting a place in the finals. For the first time the District Athletic Association organised events for girls: we were unfortunately the only school competing. In some ways the moffussil moves slowly: for many years girls' events have been a feature of school sports in Madras, both Indian and European. In the inter-House competitions for boys, the sports were won by Hardinge, the Hockey and Cricket by Clive: for Girls Willingdon won the Sports, while Erskine came first in Hockey, Netball and Throwball.

Scouts and Cubs have been doing very active work throughout the year. The school is once more indebted to personnel of the R.N.A.S.; Messrs L. Porter, P. Craven and E. Burke with the scouts, and D. Watson, W. Henney and R. James with the Cubs. All these have devoted a very large proportion of their spare time to this work, and have helped us in various other ways as well. The strength of the scouts was thirty, and towards the end of the year another troop was formed which has twenty boys. Twelve secured their tenderfoot badges, two the artist's and five the second class badges. There are thirty boys in the Cub Pack and others wanted to join. A great deal of very valuable work has been done, and it will not be easy to continue this on the present scale when we return to Madras and no longer have the services of the R.N.A.S. The work of the Guides has continued under Miss Hensman with Miss Christopher as assistant: the Company is a combined one for the two schools. Six Guides have passed their Second Class tests, and five were preparing for their First Class badge, but unfortunately Miss Hensman left Coimbatore for war service before the course was finished. We thank her for all the work she has done for the past three years.

The Band has continued its work under Mr. Fritchley. His many other duties, largely the result of rationing and time-table difficulties, have severely limited the time available. There has, however, been a definite keenness in this branch of school education, and Mr. Fritchley deserves all credit for his determination to keep the band going throughout the period of evacuation.

We continue to feel the loss of our school chapel as the centre of religious training. We have used All Souls Church for the Sung Eucharist on Sundays and for some of the Kindergarten services: other services have been held in the school. I am grateful for help from other members of the staff, particularly as this year the work of the chaplain has been heavy, and it has been a privilege to be thus able to give him some help. Bishop Pakenham Walsh held a Confirmation last April, and thirty-five candidates were presented. There has again been an encouraging increase in alms and Lenten Offerings, and as the Chapel Account will show, we have been able to send away over Rs. 800. A fairly large proportion of this has gone to the Diocesan Board of Missions which has been in great need of funds to maintain the forward work for which it is responsible.

The general health of the children has been good. We have never had to go through so many inoculations and vaccinations. Scabies and chicken pox have taxed the resources of our small school hospital, and so far as the Kindergarten classes are concerned, have somewhat seriously interfered with work. Mrs. Nazione has had a busy year. The hand of death has removed two from our family: Doris Hodgson who died of encephalitis, and Gladstone Alexander who had complications following an attack of malaria. These are the first deaths among the children that have occurred since I became Principal. The death of a child in school is a severe test of faith: God moves in a mysterious way, and it is hard to see why he should call two of such tender age to Himself. And although this falls outside the School year, I cannot omit reference to the death of Mr. Barker at the General Hospital, Madras, in May, following a long illness of nearly two months. He joined the staff in 1933 but had been on military service with the M. S. M. Rly. since 1942. Those who have been in the school during these years will recall his ceaseless activity in so many directions from reveille to 'lights out.' The school owes a lot to him. To me he was most characteristically himself waking up the boys at reveille, attending A. R. P. practices in the middle of the night, and in the holiday camps at Ennore. I laid him to rest in St. Mary's Cemetery, Madras.

So ends a short survey of our work during the past year. What of the future? The problems of evacuation are almost dead: those of the post-war period are looming on the horizon. The Sargent Report on education in India has been published, and has been such a good seller that it is already out of print. It is significant that it contains no special reference to European and Anglo-Indian education. The subject has been discussed by the Provincial Committee but no memorandum has yet been circulated to schools. Britain, on the other hand, has her new Education Act on the Statute Book. Two facts seem to be clear: there will be a demand for an education with a greater vocational bias; an attempt will be made to get all children to reach at least Standard VII before they leave school. We are directly concerned with both these facts. One thing is certain: we shall have to increase our accommodation. If now we can only meet one in every four applications for admission, what will be the position after the war. There is certain to be a heavy demand for schools of this type. The present financial position is outlined in the Report of the Emergency Committee, but this deals only with the problem of day-to-day maintenance. We have submitted to Government plans and estimates for a new building which will cost about a lakh of rupees. In our Building Fund we have at the moment only Rs. 8000/-, and under the most favourable circumstances we shall have to meet half the cost of any building scheme. A meeting of old boys and girls was held in Madras under the chairmanship of Mr. Parrie: about thirty were present. It discussed first of all the proposal to change the name of the school. There was a marked division of opinion as to whether this should be done, and the Board of Directors decided to take no further action until after the war when a more representative meeting could be summoned. An appeal for fresh subscribers among old boys and girls was made, and hitherto the response has not been commensurate with the obvious enthusiasm displayed at the meeting. The need is immediate and urgent. This Annual Report will reach a wider circle. Will old boys and girls who read this please get in touch with others? The Board of Directors is bound in the very near future to be faced with many problems connected with post-war education, and as was said in the last report we cannot plan without money.

The history of the school which is printed annually at the beginning of the Report has been re-written this year. Mr. F. H. Wilson at the request of the school committee spent considerable time in going through the school records as far back as the early part of the last century. Though this was done primarily to look into the conditions of some of our endowments, it has also served this other purpose.

In conclusion I have to tender my thanks to so many who have helped me: members of the Board of Directors and the Emergency Committee for their guidance and assistance in the many problems which have been before us: Mr. Clay, the Management and Staff of Stanes School, who as all of us on the Staff know, have shown so much kindness amidst so much inconvenience caused through the prolongation of our stay in Coimbatore. The school can never repay the service they have rendered to us. Lastly I thank my colleagues on the staff, and with them I couple those on the staff of Stanes School who have helped in the teaching of our children. Conditions of work have imposed an accumulated strain which only those who have experienced it can appreciate. The threat of invasion has receded, and the fact that Government have not yet been able to release our buildings has been a great disappointment. The Board of Directors has done, and will do, all that is possible to secure that end, and we have to remember, in the words of the intercession service which we sometimes use on Sundays that our part in this world war is to do our work faithfully and cheerfully, whatever be the conditions which are imposed on us.

MEDICAL OFFICER'S REPORT

The hospital is situated in the Y. W. C. A. building and away from the school premises. With only nine beds we have managed to accommodate and nurse about twenty patients at a time. Due to an epidemic of chicken-pox, of which we had about fifty cases, we had two sheds put up for isolation, each to accommodate about eight children. We had about sixty cases of minor fevers, and about fifty cases of itch and scabies. We had four cases of fractures: two were attended to and treated at our hospital and two were sent to the Government Headquarters hospital. One case of hernia was sent to the Government Hospital for operation and one case of infantile cataract was sent to the Mission Eye Hospital for operation.

One girl who developed Encephalitis after an attack of influenza was sent to the Government Hospital where she died. A boy with a deep abscess in the neck was also sent to the Government Hospital where he died.

The usual annual medical examination of the staff and children was done in October 1944 and all were given T. A. B. inoculation, plague inoculation and re-vaccination during the year. On the whole the general health of the children is good.
