HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE MADRAS

D.O.5604/45-Bl.

13th March 1946.

My dear Viswanathan,

In continuation of my D. O. of the 7th March 1946, I have to bring to your notice that the situation is now so bad that I have ~~(precticelly)~~ practically no work left for posting before the Hon'ble Judges. The receipts from the Government Press since my interview with you on the 8th March 1946, have been most disappointing. The total receipts for the week ending 9-3-46 are 2671 pages and on the 11th, 12th and 13th are 616, 456 and 273 pages respectively. Far from making up the shortage in the past the output is steadily diminishing. There therefore appears to be no possibility of any improvement in the immediate future and the prospect is indeed very gloomy. I gather from the Deputy Superintendent in charge of the High Court printing that the Press is being constantly flooded by Government with urgent orders which are to be given priority over High Court work and that this is to a large extent responsible for the Press not being able to keep up their promises to us. Unless a sufficiently large section of the Press is set apart exclusively for High Court work and is not allotted any other work (however urgent the need) all promises will prove vain and the High Court will have to stop working.

Yours sincerely,

P. T. Raman

My dear Viswanathan,

High Court records - printing of:

I am to bring to your notice that the printing situation is rapidly deteriorating from day to day. The receipts from the Press yesterday and today have been as low as 270 pages and 59 pages respectively and the Press has now taken to delaying the preparation even of criminal cases. There are now 16 referred trials 26 criminal appeals and 48 criminal revision cases pending with the Press. Only 3 criminal appeals have been received during this week. The Hon'ble the Chief Justice has directed me to repeat that unless an immediate improvement is effected the Court will have to suspend its sittings. Even as it is I find it ~~is~~ impossible to post sufficient work before the Hon'ble Judges to keep them fully engaged and the position is bound to become worse before it can get better. In his D.O. to me of the 14th March the Superintendent, Government Press, states that by reason of the very urgent work given to him by the Secretariat during the last three weeks he has been unable to make adequate arrangements for the printing of the High Court records. He does not anticipate any improvement in the situation and it would appear that unless the Government take immediate steps to enforce the due fulfilment of the promises made from time to time in respect of High Court printing, the Court will have to shut down.

Yours sincerely,

P.T. Raman

In continuation of my D.O. of the 16th March, I am to bring to your especial notice the delays by the Press in printing the records in Referred Trials. There are to-day 21 Referred Trial cases pending with the press -- 11 for over a fortnight. Government, no less than the High Court, have fro from time to time emphasised the need for the utmost expedition in the disposal of cases against persons awaiting sentence of death and the press has had strict instructions not to keep such cases beyond a fortnight.

The output from the Press continues to be most disappointing We have received only 1053 pages up to now inclusive of the outturn from Private Presses. A

2 APR 1946

Dated, 1st April 1946.

My dear Viswanathan,

It is refreshing to report that there has been a slight improvement in the out-turn by the Government press during the last week. The total receipts from the press for the week ending 30-3-46 is 4012 pages, out of which the out-turn by the Government press is 3016 pages (inclusive of civil and criminal cases) and by the private press 996 pages. Though the total receipts are distinctly better than those for the past several weeks, the out-turn is still short of that promised, leaving out altogether the question of wiping out arrears. I trust the press will maintain the improvement and give us a steady 4500 pages a week throughout the summer recess of the High Court. I shall be grateful if you will let me know what steps are being taken in this behalf.

Yours sincerely,

D.O.No. 9314 F.-4 Edn.

My dear Raman Nayar,

High Court - Printing - Records.

Your D.O.No. 5604-B1 dated 1st April 1946.

I am as just as pleased as you are to see that there has been an improvement in the outturn of the Government Press. I am trying to tighten up control in all directions to see the figure mentioned by you is kept up and some of the arrears are wiped out.

I am giving a rough idea of the steps taken by me in this behalf. One of the Assistants of the Government Press has been specially deputed to go round the private presses by car and speed up production. He has been given a special car allowance for this purpose.

2. Some of the staff that have been retrenched from the work of the preparation of electoral rolls has been ordered to be admitted to the High Court section. The Superintendent, Government Press has been asked to send up proposals if necessary for additional staff.

3. Steps have been taken to get new machinery and spares for the Government Press.

4. The Government of India is ~~bxgixx~~ being addressed for the grant of exemption from certain provisions of the Factory Act in respect of certain Presses that are doing High Court printing and Foundaries for the supply of types to the Presses.

4. Permission has been sought to give electric current to such of the private presses as need electric power for High Court printing.

9314 F.1-4 Edn.

[illegible] I would suggest another method by which the work can be quickened up. The Superintendent, Government Press, complains that some of the manuscripts that he gets from the High Court is so undesipherable that the private presses complain that they are unable to do much with it. I know your difficulty in securing typists, but may I suggest that if the matter cannot be typed out, it may at least be entrusted to clerks with legible handwriting or the clerks may be directed to make their handwriting legible.

[illegible] As I have been stressing improvement can only be very slow and the result of all the activities may become evident only after a month of two.

[illegible] I am to add that orders will separately issue extending the contract with private presses for the printing of High Court records for another six months in due course.

Yours sincerely,

Thank you very much for your letter. I know you are exploiting all possible means to speed up the printing of the High Court Records by the Government Press. I am also devising means of substituting typing for printing as far as possible and have under the orders of the Chief Justice engaged job typists (in anticipation of Government's approval) to do the necessary typing. Letter from the Government of India, Home Department, dated 22nd November 1941, No. 125/41-Ests.

Order—No. 2860, Public (Services), dated 12th December 1941.

The Government of India have intimated that in a recent case regarding the re-employment of a retired officer the Secretary of State has ruled that Article 520 of the Civil Service Regulations, in so far as it purports to restrict the exercise by the Provincial Governments of the powers conferred by section 241 (1) of the Government of India Act, 1935, is no longer operative and that Provincial Governments are in consequence competent to sanction the re-employment of retired officers, including those previously under the rule-making control of the Secretary of State, to posts created by them under their own powers.

My dear Viswanathan,

I am to inform you that the receipts from the Government Press for the week ending 18-4-46 were only 2763 pages. This does not augur well for the steady 4500 pages or more a week we are expecting throughout the summer vacation It is necessary for me to point out that our minimum requirements on the re-opening date (8-7-46) will roughly be about 200 first appeals, 400 to 500 second appeals and an equal number of miscellaneous cases and I trust that the Press will be able to give us something to spare over this minimum.

There were only 4 working days during week ending 20th April and as such the outturn is quite normal and therefore I have no remarks to offer.

As regards the High Court demands of 200 First appeals, 400 to 500 Second appeals and an equal number of miscellaneous appeals, it is impossible for me to guarantee this number as it is not possible to compute the total number of pages these cases will make. However, I am making all possible effort to supply on an average of 4000 pages per week. In this connection, I should like to mention that there is large demand of work connected with the working of Ministry and due to the printing of consolidated Electoral Rolls.

The out-turn by the press during the summer recess of the High Court this year was not up to expectations, and the number of full cases received up to the re-opening date is not sufficient to meet our requirements and to leave some reserve in our hands as was intended. The 985 cases stated to have been despatched by you are only parts of cases; there are only 287 full cases available for posting.

You give no indication as to when the 403 cases that have been set up and are in various stages of printing can be expected.

I shall have no difficulty in sending you the 5000 manuscript pages a week you require; but you will appreciate that unless a corresponding output is received from you we shall be in no better position regarding the posting of cases. For the past three years we have had from time to time to supplement the inadequate supplies from the Press by resort to typing. During this summer vacation it was hoped you would be able to maintain the promised outturn of 4300 printed pages a week but the average weekly outturn of the Government Press and the private presses put together was only 3300 pages. The result is that we shall soon have a shortage unless a steady output of 4300 pages a week is kept up from now onwards. But in view of the difficulties you have periodically had to encounter

(and which show no signs of abatement) I am not unduly optimistic about this. I am therefore setting apart a number of cases for being typed against an emergency. I shall have no objection to sending these on to you on the assurance that you in turn (along with the private presses) will be able to give us our minimum requirements of 4300 printed pages a week. I might incidentally point out that there are today nearly 42500 manuscript pages pending with you which I imagine should be quite ample to keep your press as well as the private presses rolling.

I may also add that only 1421 printed pages have been received from the Press during this week - 9-7-1946 to 12-7-1946 (both inclusive) and that there are 16 First Appeals and 26 Second Appeals (full cases) pending over 3 months in your Press.

We are interested in Electric power being made available to the private Presses in order to relieve the congestion and bottleneck in Government printing, particularly the delays in printing matter sent by the High Court. The various measures under conside ration by the Public Works Department are, in effect, only palliatives. They can be in no way characterised as a radical solution of the problem. I am very sceptical about the relief they are likely to afford to an already difficult situation and which bids fair to become more and more difficult as time progresses.

2. Madras has always been a growing City. The growth has been excessively rapid during the war. There is no prospect of the population shrinking to anything like the pre-war figure. With the expansion of business activities in this part of the country, with the concentration of the cinema industry in this City, the population is likely to increase much further if reasonable facilities of housing and other amenities associated with a City life are available. It seems to me therefore that this problem of making provision to meet all possible future loads on the Electric Station should be considered as a question of high priority.

3. Indications now are that the hardships of peace appear to be more unbearable than the hardships of war. During war at least Governments, Central and Provincial, had adequate powers to regul the economic life of the nation and to control trade and commerce and various other activities. In peace, although power is theore tically inherent, reluctance of Governments to clothe themselves with the necessary powers or, even when they are so willing, the delays involved in the administrative procedure is leading to the deterioration of the position from day to day. I venture to suggest that the problems of peace will have to be dealt with with the same determination and with the same energy as the problems o war and unless we do so we are likely to invite disaster. In th particular case of the Madras Power House solution appears to be to instal at the earliest possible date another generator to in the capacity of the power Station, unless P.W.D. have some more radical plan up their sleeve.

please see the E & PH. Dept notes on pp 38-39 above. Supply to private presses referred to therein was deferred in Memo No 1581 D/46-7 P.W. dated 24.7.46 in view of the then overloaded position of the M.E.Sc Power House. With a view to give relief to the M.E.Sc power House, Govt have recently permitted the operation of the Emergency Station at Villivakkam. The C.E.E has stated that with the additional power generated at the Emergency Station, it ~~will~~ may be possible to connect up all persons who have already applied for supply. With reference to this the C.E.I.G. has been asked to report at once whether all ~~applications~~ applicants for supply of M.E.Sc power whose cases are now pending with the

G.O. No 1160 Pw (Ms) 11.4.45

The Govt have sanctioned a scheme for the interconnection of the Madras Thermal station with the Mettur Hydro Electric System and it is under execution. The (is a post war) scheme (and it) is intended to provide for economic interchange of energy between the two systems to suit load conditions and to afford the necessary relief to either station in emergencies. The work is expected to be completed by the middle of 1947. The question of purchasing the M.E.S.C. Ltd. undertaking is ~~also~~ separately under the consideration of the Govt. Notices of termination of the licences when they expire on 29.8.47, have been served on the M.E.S.C. A scheme for the extension ~~[illegible]~~ of the Madras Power station at an estimated expenditure of Rs 110.25 lakhs initially rising to Rs 244.17 lakhs within a period of ten years has been sanctioned in the meanwhile. Under this scheme one 15000 KW. generating set together with the necessary boiler and equipment will be installed (and it is expected to be brought into service during 1947). In addition to this the Govt have permitted the M.E.S.C. to carry out certain important works before the expiry of its licences to meet future load development in the licensed area and have assured the ~~[illegible]~~ M.E.S.C that they will reimburse

Two more 15000 K.W. generating units will be installed under this scheme - one in 1951-2 and the other in 1953-4.

the expenditure incurred by it when they take over the undertaking.

It will be seen from the above that the Govt have already taken steps to meet the large demand for power anticipated in the Madras area in the future. The C. E. (E) is also ~~taking~~ taking all possible steps ~~[illegible]~~ for expediting the sanction of schemes.

It is difficult at times to keep all the Linotype Machines exclusively on High Court work as they have to take up current Secretariat work, Council and Assembly Proceedings and Gazette notifications.
