Station: Chepauk, Madras. Dated 27--9--1946.

From

G.Venkateswara Ayyar Esq., O.B.E., I.C.S.,
Secretary, Board of Revenue.

E.M.Gawne Esq., C.S.I., C.I.E., I.C.S.,
Commissioner of Land Revenue, Post War
Reconstruction and Commercial Taxes.

Read the following:

G.O.No.Ms.1976 Education & Public Health Department
dated 23--12--1941.

REFERENCE:

In their order cited above the Government directed that, as a measure of war economy, all ruled sheets and forms including note and draft sheets be ruled 20% closer and that the margin in the note and draft sheets be reduced to one fourth and one third respectively. The note file sheets supplied to the Board have 41 lines. The Board considers that the notes written in the closer ruled sheets are difficult to read and do not really give room for English writing which has letters rising above and descending below the general body of the script. As the war is now over the Board suggests to the Government that the war time economy of closer ruling (41 lines to a page) be given up and that the old system of 28 lines to page may be restored.
