No. .... dated 30th September 1946.

I have the honour to enclose herewith a letter from the Secretary of the Madras Legislature along with a list of 77 Government publications recommended for supply to the member of the Legislature. It is not usual to receive applications for such a large number of publications. Item Nos. 13, 18, 32, 33, 34, 44, 45, 48, 50, 51, 54, 55, 59, 60, 69, 72, 76 and 77 are books of General, technical or literary interest and under note (1) to Appendix C of the Printing Manual.

I am empowered to decline to comply with such indents and they will not be supplied. That still leaves 59 publications to be supplied. Many of them are Manuals which are ordinarily required only by Government officers in the respective departments. According to the Printing Manual, members of the Legislature are eligible for supply of such publications, which they have to return when they cease to be members. It is not often, however, that they are returned.

As a measure of paper and printing economy, I would suggest that all members of Legislature should obtain Government Publications on loan from the Legislature Library (and they may obtain a loan, if necessary, publications of General, technical and literary interest also) and the library should apply to me for any publications not available in the library. Publications for which there is much demand from members may be stocked in adequate numbers in the library so that there will be no difficulty in borrowing them.

The enclosures to this letter may be returned along with orders of Government.

The Superintendent Government Press reports that, Sri W.S. Srinivasa Rao, N.2.A.
