Sir,
Sub: Elementary Education Act - Rules - Definition of School-age - Amendment - Proposed.

In G.O.No.1958 Edn dated 23-11-45 revised age groups were prescribed in respect of areas where compulsion has been introduced on or after 1-8-45. But in respect of areas where compulsion has been introduced before 1-8-1945 the age groups are as defined under the rules framed under section 3(xiii) of the Madras Elementary Education Act. I consider that there is no necessity to prescribe two different age groups in respect of compulsory areas and that the age rule prescribed in the Government Order referred to above may be made applicable to the older compulsory areas also. I request that this suggestion may be accepted and necessary amendment may be issued.

I also recommend that a note may be added to the amendment to the following effect.

"For purposes of compulsion, a pupil attaining the minimum schoolage in the middle of a school year shall be deemed to have attained that age only from the date on which admissions can thereafter be normally made under rule 22(a) of the rules for recognition.

I am directed to communicate to you the following resolution passed at the meeting of the Executive Committee of this association held on 19th July 1946.

Resolution.

"Whereas it has been fixed the School age for the Mohamedan boys not less than 6 and not more than 13 in Rules under the Madras Elementary Education Act, 1920, as under any circumstances whatever they are quick, The Mohamedan boys will not be able to complete their im-look their religious principles in sending their boys to the schools before their proper attainment of their religious study, as this association beleive that it will be convenient and willing to their parents to send them to the schools after the completion of their religious --- study which however may occupy not below the 8th age,

If the school age be modified as not less than 8 and not more than 14 in the rules, ^{and} it is fixed in the rules
under the Act published in the Fort St., George Gazette dated 21st February 1922 as not less than 8 and not more than 13, this association, therefore, respectfully requests the Government of Madras to consider favourably to remedy this defect by modifying the School age as not less than the Mohamedans."

Compulsory Elementary Education-Age limits.

According to the rules under the Madras Elementary Education Act school age ^{is} as follows:-

Non Muslim boys between	6	and	12
Muslim boys between	6	and	13
Non-Muslim girls between	5	and	10
Muslim Girls. between	6	and	11

2. In connection with the introduction of compulsory education in selected villages it was decided to ^{expand} ~~expand~~ the age limits to 6 and 14 for a period of six years with a view to bring under instruction as many overaged pupils as possible and a proviso was added to the rules as on p 2 CF of (K).

Attention is in this connection invited to the note of the Finance Secretary on PP 66-68 NF of G.O.No.1035 Education d/12-7-45.

3. The D.P.I. now proposes that the age limits in new compulsory areas may be prescribed for old compulsory education areas also. He has not, however, adduced any reasons in support of his proposition. The reason stated at 'A' above does not exist in the case of pupils in old compulsory areas and it may not be necessary to enforce compulsion up to the age of 14 for pupils brought under instruction at the age of six. The Director may be perhaps requested ^{also} to state fully his reasons for recommending the change ^{apart from the} ~~more need for uniformity~~ ^{from the} ~~more need for uniformity~~.

Resubmitted.

2. I agree with the Secretariat note that in the case of pupils in the old compulsory areas it may not be necessary to enforce compulsion up to the age of 14 for pupils brought under instruction at the age of six. Government, however, may note that the minimum age and the maximum age prescribed for pupils in in the old compulsory areas vary according to communities. In the case of non-Muslim and Muslim boys and Muslim girls the minimum age is 6 whereas in the case of non-Muslim girls the age is 5. The maximum age varies from 10 years to 13 years. I feel that there is no necessity whatever for prescribing these various ages for the different types of pupils. If a non-Muslim girl and a Muslim girl are expected to complete the 5 years elementary course in 5 years, that is, between the ages 5 and 10 and 6 and 11 respectively, it is not understood why a non-Muslim boy should require 6 years for the same course and a Muslim boy 7 years for the same course. Under the new compulsory scheme introduced last year in rural areas, the lower age is 6. I therefore suggest that this same age may be prescribed for the older compulsory areas also. I also suggest that the upper age limit may be 12 years.

It is the intention of Government to extend the compulsory scheme for the whole Presidency and it is certainly desirable to have uniformity in rules for the whole Province instead of having a different rule for the old compulsory areas and for the new compulsory areas.

Apparently the D.P.G. suggests that the school age for the pupils in the old compulsory areas should be fixed at 6 to 12 years. His suggestion seems acceptable. Please see Fin. Secy's note on p. 66 n.f. of 9. For orders whether the Director may be asked to submit necessary amendments to the Rules. (The proviso introduced in 1945 will also require slight modifications). In view of the observations of the D.P.G. no action seems called for on the representation on p. 3 of.
