The list

2. There are no papers in the file showing how the holidays given to the Government Press before the war compared with those given to other Govt. offices. Before Finance accept the present proposal, E.P.H. may be requested to furnish the papers relevant to the point and offer their remarks whether the present proposal will be in consonance with the principle contained in those papers. They may also be requested to indicate the financial effect, if any, involved.

2. Prior to 1944, the General and Sectional holidays applicable to all Govt. Offices were not applicable to the Govt. Press., though the Govt. Press. In fact the question of granting additional holidays as in the case of other Govt. offices to the Press was ~~considered~~ considered in 1941 and it was decided that the question would be considered only after final decision had been reached as to whether the piece-work system in the Government Press would be converted into permanent salary system. After orders were passed making the salary system permanent in the Govt. Press in lieu of the piece-work system, the S.G.P. was asked to submit revised proposals relating to the question of granting additional holidays (general and sectional) to the Govt. Press employees. The S.G.P. recommended that the employees of the Govt. Press might be granted all holidays (general and sectional) given to other Govt. offices except the holidays for Meeladi Nabi and Bakrid. In this connection it may be pointed out that the Govt. on account of the exigencies created by the war reduce the number of holidays mostly cutting out Christmas holidays. G.O. 616 Pub. Elec. dated 23rd Feb. 42 of holidays applicable to the Govt. Press prior to general curtailment of holidays, will be found on page 3 of G.O. 42 Edn. dated 9-1-43. Since 1944 the (general and sectional) holidays applicable to all Govt. Offices are being applied to the Govt. Press with the exception of Meeladi Nabi for 1944 and Meeladi Nabi and Bakrid for 1945, and without any exception for 1946. The first time when Government ordered the publication of the list of holidays applicable to other Govt. Offices was in 1944 (vide 1680 Edn. dated 11-12-43.) Attention is invited to the Note of Finance on page 11 of that G.O. in which they accepted the principle of applying holidays applicable to other Govt. Offices to the Govt. Press. Please see also notes of Finance on page 6 of G.O. 1894 Edn. dated 20-12-44 and page 3 of G.O. 54 Edn. dated 8-1-46.

As the general principle has been accepted by Finance in the previous years, in fairness, it is submitted that the Govt. Press employees should also get the additional holidays now restored to other Govt. employees of other departments.

The file may be sent to Finance.

The following statement compares the number of holidays enjoyed by the Press and other Govt. offices prior to 1943:-

Govt. Press	Other Govt. Offices.
General - 19 1/2	39 (including penultimate Saturdays)
Sectional - 8	12

The question of increasing the number of holidays for the Press was raised by the S.G.P. more than once but was held over pending decision on the question of ~~shift~~ over from the piece-work system to permanent salary system in the Press. The salary system was introduced in Nov. 1943 and since then all holidays applicable to other Govt. offices were made applicable to Press with the exception of Bakrid and Miladi-Nabi. In 1946 even this exceptional holidays were given to the Press.

The Press used to be closed for half a day every Saturday and the question of giving holidays on penultimate Saturdays does not arise. For orders whether the Press may be allowed the concessions of availing of all holidays applicable to other Govt. offices except holidays on penultimate Saturdays.

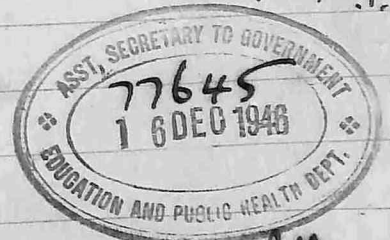

The file may be sent to Finance

With reference to this department's note on pp 2-3 above, please see the ^{successing} EPH note. They have not stated anything regarding the ~~subject~~ cost which the S.G.P.'s proposal may entail.

However, in view of the circumstances stated in the EPH note on pp 3-4 above, subd. that Finance may agree to the proposal at 'N' on p 4 above.

Please see the Fin. dep't's note on 17-4-55. A ~~dept.~~ order is submitted. May be circulated to

The order may be issued immediately and may get the benefit of the Xmas holidays
