Printing of the High Court Records - correspondence ending with Government's letter No. 46677 F-3-Edn.
dated 5th November 1945.

There are still over 46,000 manuscript pages in civil cases pending in the Government Press although the Press is working to capacity and about 11,000 manuscript pages in the Free Press of India Ltd., The total outturn by the two presses is not quite sufficient to meet the requirements of the High Court and the shortage of ready work on hand is impeding - disposals and the reduction of arrears. The filings this year have been abnormally high and large disposals are necessary to keep arrears in check. With a view to have a better outturn it is proposed to entrust part of the printing work of the High Court as an emergency measure to Messrs. Hoe & Co., Printers, Madras who are willing to do the work on the same terms and conditions agreed to by the Free Press and sanctioned by Government. The Honourable the Chief Justice is of opinion that this is quite necessary.

I am therefore to request that Government may be pleased to sanction the entrustment of part of the High Court printing work on the aforesaid terms to Messrs. Hoe & Co. as and when an emergency arises owing to the Government Press being unable to cope with the current requirements of the High Court. It follows, of course, that the Government Press will be provided work to their capacity.

My dear Coorey,

High Court records - Printing of

Kindly refer to my letter R.O.C.No.5604/45-B.1 dated 17-10-1945 on the above subject. I there explained that an out-turn of 750 printed pages a day by the press would be the bare minimum necessary to provide the Judges of the Court with sufficient work and that the Government press were unable to supply us with more than 500 pages per day. Government were pleased to sanction the employment of the Free Press of India Ltd. in order to make up the shortage. Actually the work turned out by the Free Press has thus far been negligible and although in my letter R.O.C.No.5604/45-B1 dated 21-12-1945 sanction was sought for employing Messrs Hoe & Co., I am extremely doubtful whether a private press can come to our rescue to any appreciable extent. The fact seems to be that the rates we offer are unworkable under the present conditions and are in any event far below the prevailing market rates. It follows that we have to rely solely on the Government press to provide us with sufficient matter to keep the Courts engaged.

The Government press have for one reason or another been unable to improve upon the minimum of 500 pages a day which they guaranteed us in October last. They have been pre-occupied with other work and very recently I believe, their hours of overtime have been drastically cut short. This, it would appear, will prevent them from increasing their present output which I have however been assured will be maintained.

3 The ready work on hand is hardly sufficient for three weeks. The Government press has still got about 47,000 pages pending with it and more work is ready here for being sent to the press. The Hon'ble the Chief Justice considers the situation very serious in view of the fact that unless an immediate increase in output is achieved the work of the Court will ~~sure be~~ soon be brought to a standstill. I am therefore to request that emergent orders might be issued directing the Superintendent of the Government Press to take immediate steps (by working overtime or extra shifts or by engaging extra staff or by other means) to bring his output at least to the minimum of 750 pages a day required by us. This figure, it may be noted, excludes criminal cases and Privy Council work.

Yours sincerely,

Sir, Ref: Endt.No.58423 F.2 Edn., dated 4th January 1946.

Please refer to my endorsement A.S.I/H.C., dated 1-11-45 wherein I have stated that due to the lack of spare parts and matrices I was not able to increase the daily outturn to 750 pages. Conditions on this account have worsened necessitating four machines being out of use. I went through the question of putting a third shift but work in other departments is so heavy that the printing department will not be able to cope up with the work.

However I have instructed the Registrar, High Court to get quotations from a few of the presses suggested by me for scrutiny and acceptance pending which the question of entrustment of this work to Messrs. Hoe & Co., also may be held over. Government endorsement No.58423-P-1 dated 2-1-46 is therefore returned herewith.

I will do my best to co-operate with High Court in the best possible manner to ease the present serious situation.

11 JAN 1946

Madras, dated 16th January 1946.

Sir,

High Court records - Printing of.

In continuation of my D.O. letter of the 3rd January 1946 I am to say that the position regarding printing has now become so critical that unless very drastic measures are forthwith resorted to, the work of the High Court will soon be brought more or less to a standstill. At the same time institutions are abnormally high.

I had a personal discussion with the Superintendent, Government Press, yesterday regarding this matter. The position is briefly this. As pointed out in my previous letters, the High Court requires 750 pages of printed matter (exclusive of criminal cases) a day to keep it going. The Superintendent, Government Press, tells me that his Press will be unable to turn out more than 600 pages a day. Deducting 100 pages for criminal cases, this leaves us with 500 pages of civil work against a requirement of 750. The problem of getting the deficit of 250 pages made up is one which has to be immediately solved.

The Government Press at present charges the High Court at the rate of Rs.1-8-9 per printed page. No private press will under present conditions undertake any printing at this rate. The Superintendent however assures me that he will be able to get the necessary amount of work done by private presses at a cost of Rs.2-4-0 a page but, naturally, he objects to the extra cost being debited against his Press. The Hon'ble the Chief Justice considers that extra cost must be paid if a crisis is to be averted.

recourse must be had forthwith to private printing to the extent the Superintendent might deem necessary in order to provide the High Court with the 750 pages it requires.

4 Assuming that private printing is resorted to to the extent of about 5,000 pages a month, the loss incurred by the Government Press by reason of the extra payment will be roughly about Rs.3,750/- a month. It is expected that the emergency will be tided over before the end of April 1946 and that the midsummer vacation of the High Court will give the Government Press sufficient respite to build up an adequate reserve. As at present foreseen therefore, private printing will not be necessary after the end of April and the total loss suffered will be about Rs.10,000/- to 12,000/-. The pro forma accounts show that the Translation and Printing Department of the High Court has for several years yielded a very handsome profit to Government, and although it is not possible to say what the position this year will be, the extra cost incurred in private printing is not likely to involve Government any loss although it will necessarily cut short the profits. The total profit for the four years 1941 to 1945 is Rs.87,002-8-9. In view of the fact that the litigants are already paying very heavily in the shape of court-fees and printing charges the Hon'ble the Chief Justice trusts that it will be unnecessary to levy any extra charge from them. Since the loss likely to be suffered is negligible when compared with the serious consequences that the proposal is designed to avert, I am to request that Government may pass immediate orders authorizing the Superintendent, Government Press, to incur the expenditure.

GOVERNMENT PRESS - High Court Printing.

REF: A₁'s minute. d 2/1/46.

I have spoken to the Registrar of the High Court and the Superintendent of the Government Press.

As a war-time measure, certain factories, including the Govt. Press, were exempted from the operation of Sec. 34-40 of the Factories Act, which contain restrictions on working hours, e.g., vide - Section 36, that no adult-worker should work more than 10 hours in any day. On a reference from the Govt. of India, P.W.D. have withdrawn these exemptions and the order relating to the Govt. Press is at page 3 C.F. From the date of the order, the Press workers cannot work for more than 10 hours in any day.

The ~~Govt. of India~~ S.G.P. says that this order does not affect the High Court Printing work at all for the following reasons:

The agreement with the High Court was that the Govt. Press should print 500 pages per day for the High Court, the balance of the work (about 250 pages more) being done by a private presses, (see below), the arrangements for the latter being made by the Registrar. The Govt. Press has been carrying out High Court work at the rate of 600 pages per day and this outturn is not affected by the P.W.D. order referred to above.

What has actually happened, as I gather from the Registrar, is that the ~~printing press~~ private press has let the High Court down.

To The Hon'ble the Chief Justice of the High Court of Judicature Madras.

Hon'ble Sir
Subject: Printing of High Court Records.
I am directed to forward a copy of the Proceedings of this Court No 311 Edn. d 13-2-46 in continuation of this Dept's letter no 58423F-5 Edn d 18.1.46.

and the Registrar ~~that~~ ^{it} ~~will~~ ^{it} not do even the 150 pages per day falling to ~~his~~ ^{its} share. So he would like the Govt. Press to do 750 pages per day, instead of the 500 pages ~~agreed~~ ^{agreed} upon and 600 pages actually done.

I have asked the Superintendent, Govt. Press about this and he tells me that, with the equipment available and the other work on hand, the Press cannot possibly do more than what it is doing now for the High Court viz., 600 pages a day and this is much more than it has ever done before for the High Court (which averaged about 450 pages per day). It is, therefore, up to the High Court authorities to make the necessary arrangements to see that the balance of the work required by them is done in private presses, as ~~permitted~~ ^{permitted} in (M). If necessary, these presses should, in view of the emergency, be offered higher rates, as was done by Govt. for electoral roll work. The Govt. Press is doing all it can for the High Court, with ~~great~~ ^{great} difficulty, in view of its other urgent work, like Electoral Rolls work.

There is thus no point in cancelling the P.W.D. orders, in so far as they relate to the Press, as the Superintendent, Govt. Press says that, even if he is to put his men on extra hours (more than 10 hours per day), his machines are not capable of doing more than they now do.

The Registrar said he would address Govt. His letter will be awaited and a suitable reply sent.

Thanks.

Madras, dated 16th January 1946

Sir,

High Court records - Printing of.

In continuation of my D.O. letter of the 3rd January 1946 I am to say that the position regarding printing has now become so critical that unless very drastic measures are forthwith resorted to, the work of the High Court will soon be brought more or less to a standstill. At the same time institutions are abnormally high.

I had a personal discussion with the Superintendent, Government Press, yesterday regarding this matter. The position is briefly this. As pointed out in my previous letters, the High Court requires 750 pages of printed matter (exclusive of criminal cases) a day to keep it going. The Superintendent, Government Press, tells me that ~~the~~ his Press will be unable to turn out more than 600 pages a day. Deducting 100 pages for criminal cases, this leaves us with 500 pages of civil work against a requirement of 750. The problem of getting the deficit of 250 pages made up is one which has to be immediately solved.

The Government Press at present charges the High Court at the rate of Rs.1-8-9 per printed page. No private press will under present conditions undertake any printing at this rate. The Superintendent however assures me that he will be able to get the necessary amount of work done by private presses at a cost of Rs.2-4-0 a page but, naturally enough, he objects to the extra cost being debited ~~to~~ his Press. The Hon'ble the Chief Justice considers extra cost must be paid if a crisis is to be avoided.

course must be had forthwith to private printing to the extent the Superintendent might deem necessary in order to provide the High Court with the 750 pages it requires.

Assuming that private printing is resorted to to the extent of about 5,000 pages a month, the loss incurred by the Government Press by reason of the extra payment will be roughly about Rs.3,750/- a month. It is expected that the emergency will be tided over before the end of April 1946 and that the midsummer vacation of the High Court will give the Government Press sufficient respite to build up an adequate reserve. As at present foreseen therefore, private printing will not be necessary after the end of April and the total loss suffered will be about Rs.10,000/- to 12,000/-. The pro forma accounts show that the Translation and Printing Department of the High Court has for several years yielded a very handsome profit to Government, and although it is not possible to say what the position this year will be, the extra cost incurred in private printing is not likely to involve Government any loss although it will necessarily cut short the profits. The total profit for the four years 1941 to 1945 is Rs.87,002-8-9. In view of the fact that the litigants are already paying very heavily, in the shape of court-fees and printing charges the Hon'ble the Chief Justice trusts that it will be unnecessary to levy any extra charge from them. Since the loss likely to be suffered is negligible when compared with the serious consequences that the proposal is designed to avert, I am to request that Government may pass immediate orders authorizing the Superintendent, Government Press, to incur the expenditure.
