Order—No. 51, Education, dated 8th January 1946.

It is proposed that teachers employed in schools under local bodies may be appointed as authorized agents for the sale of National Savings Certificates, they being paid a commission of 2½ per cent on the value of certificates sold by them. National Savings Certificates - Sale of - Utilisation of the services of teachers in Govt. elementary schools in the agency.

It has been suggested that the teachers employed in Government Elementary Schools in the agency may be appointed as Authorised Agents for the sale of national savings certificates in the agency villages. On appointment these teachers will earn a commission of 2½% on the value of the National Savings Certificates sold by them. As the teachers are Govt., servants, under the existing orders, the commission earned by them will have to be paid to His Excellency the Governor's War Fund unless the orders are relaxed.

The D.P.I. is requested to report in consultation with the Agents whether these teachers are suitable for the work and whether they can undertake it without detriment to their regular duties at school. If it is considered desirable to appoint the teachers as authorised agents the Director is requested to report whether the existing orders in respect of Commission should be relaxed, so as to give them the benefit of ~~drawing~~ retaining the commission earned ~~by them~~.

The teachers working in the interior agency villages have poor postal facilities and it is not desirable to appoint them as authorized agents for the sale of national savings certificates. Consequently they have to make long journeys in the forests to go to a post office to remit the money in the post office, running the risk of theft besides dislocating their regular work. They cannot also remain with the money in their hands without fear of thieves.

I am therefore not in favour of utilization of the services of teachers in Government Elementary Schools in the Agency for sale of National Savings Certificates.

In accordance with the existing orders (G.O.No.54 Finance dated the 8th February 1944), village headmen appointed as Authorised Agents are entitled to a commission of 2½ per cent on the value of National Savings Certificates sold by them. Major Korts said that only 20 per cent of the village headmen took interest in the matter and that others were indifferent. He suggested that where village headmen were not efficient, the karnams might be entrusted with the work. He was informed by A-1 that this Government did not think it desirable to accept the suggestion. A-1, however, told him that in modification of the existing orders, the question of appointing suitable school teachers also as authorised agents will be considered in consultation with the D.P.I.

K above. - At the time of the introduction of the Small Savings Scheme in this Province, it was considered that only Village Headmen ~~will~~ would be suitable for appointment as Authorised Agents in the villages. The question of appointing village school-masters also as Authorised Agents was not specifically considered then. Village school-masters fall under the following classes:-

(a) Private School-Masters (aided and non-aided Elementary schools).

(b) School-Masters in the employ of local boards.

(c) School-Masters employed in Government schools.

2 Class (a) above. - Private School-Masters. There would seem to be no objection to appointing suitable and reliable school-masters who are willing to do the work as Authorised Agents for the saleof National Savings Certificates in villages, in cases where the Village Headman is willing to be relieved of his work or is indifferent to this work. Where the Village Headman is doing his work more or less satisfactorily, it ~~is~~ does not seem necessary or desirable to have another Authorised Agent (School-Master) for canvassing the residents of the same village.

The Local Administration Department may be requested to examine this point and also to say whether it would be necessary to direct that the commission earned by these school-masters should be credited x to the funds of the local boards concerned. It may be noted that such a requirement would make the school-masters lose all interest in this work.

In accordance with the existing orders (G.O.No.54 Finance dated the 8th February 1944), village headmen appointed as Authorised Agents are entitled to a commission of 3½ per cent on the value of National Savings Certificates sold by them. Major Korts said that only 20 per cent of the village headmen took interest in the matter and that others were indifferent. He suggested that where village headmen were not efficient, the Karnams might be entrusted with the work. He was informed by A-1 that this Government did not think it desirable to accept the suggestion. K A-1, however, told him that in modification of the existing orders, the question of appointing suitable school teachers also as authorised agents will be considered in consultation with the Director of Public Instructions.

Members of the eligible Communities in villages are almost all of them very poor and cannot afford to purchase National Savings Certificates even to a small extent.

The labour school teachers ~~may~~ have no influence with their caste people in their villages and they cannot therefore sell National Savings Certificates to any appreciable extent.

For the above reasons, I consider that labour school teachers are not suitable for appointment as Authorized Agents for the sale of National Savings Certificate.
